Divide and Conquer in the red?

BY LORI TAYLOR Herald Staff Writer

Participation in Halton Hills' resource recycling program, Divide and Conquer, is remaining constant, but town works department supervisor Frank Morette still anticipates a deficit by the end of the year.

"The program's not paying for itself." Mr. Morette sald. However, while the town is not receiving a financial return sufficient to cover the costs of the program, it does reduce the amount of garbage going into the regional landfill site in Oakville, he added.

Participation has dropped slightly over the vacation months, but that was more or less expected because the quantity of garbage as a whole drops off during that period. Mr. Morette said.

The rate of participation varies from one section of town to another. In the newer areas of the community, partleipation is as high as 27 per cent,
