Girls in Georgetown West

PRIDE OF LADY BADEN-POWELL

Girl griding is celebrating 70 years of successful growth in Canada and Halton Hills Pathfinders, Guldes and Brownles are busily doing their bit to honor the occasion. An open house held Thursday sight in the basement of Hillcrest United Church featured diplays about what the girl guide movement in Canada is all about as well as provided an opportunity for mothers and

Jelinek seeks auto meetings with U.S. government officials

Halton MP Otto Jellnek is in the U.S. this week for a series of meetings with federal government, corporate and labor officials revolving around sagging auto sales in both the U.S. and Canada.

Yesterday (Tuesday), Mr. Jelinek was scheduled to meet in Washington D.C. with officials of the U.S. Trade Representative, the Department of Commerce and State, the House Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee.

Tomorrow, he travels to Detroit to discuss current problems with General Motors and United Auto Workers directors.

Prompted by the fact that Canada is now experiencing the largest deficit in the history of the Auto Pact, Mr. Jelihek's trip is aimed at determining the "actual state of the industry! in the U.S., at galning perspective on the industry's future ability to meet foreign competition and the U.S. perception of the Auto Pact and at assessing the feasibility of imposing controls on foreign car production.

Pathfinders are 12 to 15." "I think what frightens most The groups each have up to people off is thinking they have 24 girls, and the more leaders to have had experience with who volunteer, the more guiding before, but they groups can be opened. Mrs.

Crawford said. The district usually has a walting list as it is, she said.

There are other openings available for women who would like to assist, such as cookie convenor, telephone convenor, and assistants to the leaders, helping them keep track of testing and badges.

Mrs. Crawford sald. "There are a lot of chances to meet other people. One of the things the leaders enjoy is seeing the girls accomplish something. It gives you a lot of pride to see these girls accomplish something. The more the leaders put into it, the more the girls get out of it." Anyone wishing to volunteer to become a leader or to help in another position can contact Mrs. Crawford at 877-1163, "and the sooner the better." Mrs. Crawford said,
