

Avro Arrow exhibit opens

A presentation of artifacts and memorabilia related to the Avro Arrow to the Peel Museum and Art Gallery tonight will highlight the introduction of a new book, "Avro Arrow", by Boston Mills Press.

The artifacts and memorabilia will make up an aviation collection, and in particular an Avro Arrow collection, which will be one of the largest of its kind in Canada, Boston Mills president John Denison said.

The presentation is not open to members of the public because of space limitations in the museum, but the exhibit will be open during normal museum hours from tomorrow (Thursday) on.

The cancellation of the Avro Arrow project in 1959 by the Diefenbaker government put 14,000 people out of work, including 600 from Georgetown.

On the Monday evening following the lay-offs, 200 people, the largest delegation ever to visit council, discussed ways and means of solving the resulting unemployment crisis in Georgetown, and the Georgetown Employment Service was formed to list all the unemployed men and women in Georgetown.

Hunt results earlier

Ontario's wildlife managers are going to try to get the results of this year's moose and deer hunts much earlier than in the past, Ontario Natural Resources Minister James Auld announced.

To accomplish this, the sale of moose and deer licences by non-government licence issuers will be stopped prior to the end of the season.

Hunters will not be able to buy moose licences after October 31, 1980, and deer licences after November 30, 1980, from outside licence issuers.

However, hunters will still be able to purchase both licences at Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources district and regional offices, as well as at the Ministry offices in Toronto, until the end of the open season.

These earlier cut-off dates have been imposed this year as a step in the improved deer and moose management programs. This means that the Ministry will be able to obtain the licence copies from issuers sooner and begin sampling in the annual mailed surveys earlier than before. The results of the surveys will, therefore, be available much earlier, so this data can be considered when making management plans and decisions for the coming season.

Volunteers needed

UNICEF Ontario needs volunteer help now to launch its 1980 fundraising programs. The annual Halloween for UNICEF and Greeting Card campaigns which are now in full swing, require many volunteers to perform the various tasks necessary to raise funds to meet the ever increasing needs of children in over 108 developing countries. There is a job to suit any interested person. Contact the UNICEF Ontario office now. Call or write: UNICEF Ontario, 38 Berwick Avenue, Toronto, Ontario, M5P 1H1. Tel: 416-487-4153.
