The Georgetown Choral Society and its special guests celebrate a "Festival Noel" this Saturday and Sunday at Knox Presbyterian Church in Georgetown and Holy Rosary Catholic Church in Milton.

Already well-respected for its near-flawless renderings of often difficult musical pieces from classics to pop, the Choral Society is launching its tenth season with four tandem concerts with the Cantante Singers of Georgetown and the Toronto Symphony Youth Orchestra.

Tickets are on sale at several area locations and at the door for two shows at Knox Church this Saturday, 7 and 9 p.m. The same concert will be performed Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. (a children's concert that reveals the "Magic of Christmas") and at Milton's Holy Rosary Church Sunday at 8 p.m.

The Choral Society will feature six soloists in performing Marc-Antoine Charpentier's "Midnight Mass," a 40-minute arrangement of light seasonal carols, many of which date back to the 17th century. The melodic bass of Bill Brush will be spotlighted amid the Socity's 50 voices, as will those of sopranos Anna Burke and Mary Jane McGinn, alto Carolyn Simmons and tenors Martin Veltman and Simon Edwards.

The 33 Cantante Singers then take centre stage for a rendition of the "Magnificat" by Ralph Vaughn Williams that again features soloist Carolyn Simmons of the Choral Society.

Accompanying both choirs throughout the program will be the Toronto Symphony Youth Orchestra, featuring 11 strings and two flutes. Choral Society director Dale Wood will conduct, and St. George's Church organist Gerry Van Wyck will also accompany.

Have you had a chance to COMPARE?

Really look at your TV Pictures....

If you don't see good solid reception on every channel on your dial, if the pictures are snowy, if airplanes and passing cars and trucks create noise and picture breakup, if the colour is washed out — maybe it's time you end those frustrations and have Cable TV installed. Peace of mind, and the family will love you for it.

GLT presents 'witchly' doings in coming play

Hans, the Witch and the Goblin, too, Are coming to town to entertain you. Alicia, the Princess, with her father, the King And Castor, and Senna and Scratch all bring Their wisdom to bear on the problem at hand. Will Daisy the Witch succeed in her plan And become the force with power in the land? Or will Mrs. Crabtree, a dowser most willing, Safeguard the king and his daughter by stilling The hand intent on destruction? Brave Hans does his best to protect the fair maid, But the Queen of the Forest has other plans I'm afraid. Her swineherd, Sylvester with piglets so clever Comes to the rescue - they live happily for ever!
