

Over 80 voices from Stewarttown Senior Public School combined with a student production of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" Wednesday evening as the school presented its annual Christmas show for a packed gallery at Knox Presbyterian Church in Georgetown. So impressed were parents with the performances of the choir and the actors that the students were honored by a lengthy standing ovation. Stewarttown Senior principal Rob McCaw called it one of the most professional Christmas shows he has ever seen.

The students' production of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" was crisp and witty and a special kudos should go to Simon Oldaker, whose "Scrooge" would have Stewarttown Senior Public School's Simon Oldaker was his stingiest best as Ebenezer Scrooge in a student production of a Christmas Carol Wednesday night. An evening of drama and carols performed by the school's 86-member choir brought parents and interested friends out in droves, filling the Knox Presbyterian (Georgetown) hall to capacity.

Have you had a chance to COMPARE?

Really look at your TV Pictures....

If you don't see good solid reception on every channel on your dial; if the pictures are snowy; if airplanes and passing cars and trucks create noise and picture breakup; if the colour is washed out — maybe it's time you end those frustrations and have Cable TV installed. Peace of mind, and the family will love you for it.

Under the direction of K. Kirkup-Ortolan, the school's choir breezed through moving renditions of traditional Christmas carols and perfectly harmonized on "Carol of the Drum", which the Vienna Boys' Choir popularized over 15 years ago.

It was, as Stewarttown principal Bob McCaw said afterward, "one of the most professional school productions I've ever seen."
