

Medal highlight of 24 years' service

Haltom's director of education, E.S. (Em) Lavender has submitted his resignation, effective Dec. 31, 1981.

As with the departure of business and finance superintendent Bruce Lindley, Mr. Lavender submitted his resignation well in advance to allow the board of education sufficient time to hire a replacement.

Mr. Lavender has been associated with the Haltom board for 24 years, joining as head of the history department at Burlington Central High School. He went on to become principal of that high school, and later area superintendent in the north when the Haltom board was formed by amalgamating the area boards.

 In 1968, Mr. Lavender received the Queen's Jubilee medal for his work in the education field.

"When I came to Central Office over ten years ago, I brought with me a deep conviction about and a pride in the value of the teacher's role," Mr. Lavender wrote in his letter of resignation. "As well, I had a general, but superficial knowledge of the role of the citizen as trustee. I am convinced that I will leave with my pride in the teacher's role undiminished and with a tremendous respect for the role of citizen as trustee, a role I have come to associate with some of the finest people I have known."

Board chairman Bill Lawson, in accepting Mr. Lavender's resignation at the board meeting Thursday, said, "I have come to admire Em for the principles he stands for and the sincere, honest care he demonstrates for people."

About the Hills

First aid grads

Eight persons successfully completed a six-week Standard First Aid Course held Oct. 29 to Dec. 3 at the Georgetown Ambulance Hall. Instructors for this Red Cross course were Donna Massena and Floyd Longbottom. Graduates are Nicola Eggleton and Sandra Purton, David Ward, Doreen McDonald, Peter Cripps, D.W. Ford, Genny Steenhuis and Sandra Schreiber.

Renew search?

Canada's external affairs minister, Mark MacGuigan, was to meet this week with Mexican officials to discuss the disappearance of a Milton girl who has been missing in Mexico for almost a year. Mr. MacGuigan hopes to persuade Mexican authorities to revive their investigation into the disappearance of 14-year-old Cathy Sweet. A mystery letter to Canadian officials has said the girl is now in the United States, and FBI investigators are conducting an intensive search for her. The girl's parents, Conrad and Frances Sweet of RR6, Milton, believe their daughter has been forced into white slavery.

Puffless persuasion

Smokers everywhere are expected to observe "Weedless Wednesday" next week (Jan. 21), but the Haltom Council on Smoking and Health has a special suggestion. A smoking withdrawal clinic follows National Non-Smoking Week Jan. 26 through 30. If you'd like to join the non-smoking majority, you can attend the free, five-night clinic at Joseph Brant Memorial Hospital in Burlington. For more information, phone 827-7973 or 527-4688.
