

Cubs take a hike over hills of Halton

North Halton District Cubs assembled at Limehouse public school parking lot Jan. 17 for a hike to Acton, by way of the Guelph Trail. District Commissioner Steve

Thompson of Acton had the boys form up in their groups ready for the eight-and-a-half kilometre trek to Acton. One hundred and fifty Wolf Cubs and 70 leaders and parents enjoyed the beautiful scenery and many various objects along the trail. Deer tracks, a ground hog, wolf and near the Fourth Line, an old boat which created much discussion. The weather was bright and sunny, but very brisk. Going up and down hills kept everyone in good shape. The Guelph Trail Club has installed several styles over the fences, making it easier for the young cubs to hike. This event was organized by Elaine Hannah, Cubmaster of 1st Limehouse, assisted by Evelyn Owen. Both are members of the North Halton District Service Team. Highlighting the end of the hike at the Acton Scout Hall everyone was served hot chocolate and cookies by the Acton Scout and Guide Mothers.

Cubs and leaders were from Acton, Ballinacraig, Georgetown, Glen Williams, Limehouse and Norval. The Cubs were reminded of the District Cub Kar Rally to be held at the Acton Legion Hall, Feb. 14.

TWO FOR CENTENNIAL

At a Jan. 10 tournament sponsored by Acton high school for senior public schools in Peel-Halton, Rolling Meadows were the victors when they defeated Mackenzie Smith from Acton 17-9. High scorers for Mackenzie were Brad Yeomans with 10 points and Bruce Hain with 3 points. In the semi-final, Centennial defeated Sherratt from Milton by the score of 28-12. High scorers for Centennial were: Keith Reiger, 4 pts., John Fortler, 4 pts., Stephen Roy, 4 pts., Fernando Cipriano, 4 pts., Chris Marcucci, 4 pts. In the above picture, Centennial and Rolling Meadows players look towards the basket as Centennial scores.

Await trapping study

Art Hawes of Limehouse is one of many area trappers awaiting the results of an eight-year study by conservation officials into alternative methods to the controversial leghold trap. "I'd be interested in (learning about) anything that's more humane," Mr. Hawes commented last week, at the same time pointing out the need for an animal-attracting lure. Mr. Hawes is one of 450 trappers who work in the area supervised by the ministry of natural resources' Cambridge office and are looking forward to the ministry's study results this June as well as the marketing next year of a new kind of legsnare trap. Much of the controversy surrounding the use of leghold traps stems from inadequate line checks by amateur trappers, a practice which eventually forces the trapped animal to try and gnaw its way loose or otherwise injure itself.

New CVCA brochure

A new Credit Valley Conservation Authority brochure, including a map of the Credit River watershed, is now available to the public on request. The full color brochure also outlines programs, properties and regulations and can be obtained by writing to the Authority at Meadowdale, Ontario, L4J 1K0, or phoning 451-1615.

COACHES CORNER

Coach Rick McArthur of the Acton Junior boys basketball team discusses strategy with his Redmen. The Junior squad have won 13 consecutive tournaments and have won their past 17 games.

Tickets going fast for Hockey Heritage dinner

The Hockey Heritage Awards night is fast approaching. Tues. Feb. 10 is the date when Georgetown honors its contributors to hockey in Halton Hills.

The night starts at 6 p.m. with cocktails and then dinner at 7 p.m. The Heritage awards dinner is held at Holy Cross Auditorium and will feature the illustrious "Heritage Award" and guest speakers.

Last years winner, the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 120 was chosen for its many years of sponsoring the "Saturday Morning Hockey" in Georgetown. A photograph of each Heritage award recipient hangs in the Gordon Alcott Memorial recreation centre. The photographs are the works of James Fishback and were donated by the Georgetown Halton Hills Herald.

The following names are the nominations for the Hockey Heritage award. The winner will be announced for the next Wednesday's edition of Sportsweek:

H. Levy, Red Asseltine, Ann McMenemy, Bill Richmond, Joe Pentecost, Dave Kentner, Ken McMillan, Bud James, Dave Osbourn, Zeke McCandless, Ted King, Bob Lane, Herb Robinson, Herb Arnold, Jim Yates, Jim Ford, Frank Connely, Herb Hancock, Roy Ward, Harvey Garvin, Alf Sykes, Del Beaumont.

There are 500 tickets being sold for the Heritage dinner and after one day of sales, 100 tickets have now been bought for the event. Heritage Council chairman Dave Kentner predicts that all $12.50 tickets will be sold in two weeks.
