

All went home happy after big dance

A very successful dance was held at the Community Centre Saturday night.

It was sponsored by the Ballinafad Women's Institute, whose members were responsible for selling tickets in advance. The Wellington Five provided good music which suited every one. Jesse McEnery called a few square dances.

To add to the fun of the evening, there were a few special prizes. The first Spot Dance was won by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Burt. The Birthday prize was won by Keith Moore, and the one getting the prize for coming from the farthest distance was Cliff McDonald from St. Catharines.

The event of the evening which everyone had been looking forward to was the draw for the quilt which the W.I. made. Little Valerie Saunders was called up to pull the winning ticket. The name on the ticket was Janice Thompson, R.R. 1 Georgetown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thompson.

There was an intermission and an assortment of fruit-bread was served in the basement with coffee. Following that, dancers returned upstairs and dancing was enjoyed again for an hour or so.

During that time, the second Spot Dance prize was won by Don Early and Sadie Moore.

Worshippers were privileged to hear Wendy Hannah, B.A.M. Div., candidate for the Ministry from St. Andrew's United Church, Georgetown, as guest speaker. Her sermon was an Insight Into Missions. The ladies choir favored with an anthem.

Mrs. Gary Brown read the first Scripture lesson.

We were sorry to learn Sunday that the minister, Rev. Don Siles, is a patient in the Georgetown Hospital. We wish him a speedy recovery.

We were pleased to welcome back for a short visit Mr. and Mrs. Peter Brown and sons.

They were former residents here but now live in Ottawa. They met many friends and acquaintances after the church service Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Colwill of Ancaster spent the weekend with the Jamiesons.

Florie Kirkpatrick, of Belfast, Ireland, is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Shortill.

Some may be interested to know the result of the polls in Ballinafad for the recent Provincial Election, at the Community Centre. Wellington - Dufferin-Peel Poll 90, Conservative - Jack Johnson 68, Liberal - Elbert Van Donkersgoed 53, N.D.P. - Marion Chambers 31.

In Poll 91, the following results were recorded: Johnson - 77, Van Donkersgoed - 41, and Marion Chambers - 35. Sheila Hamilton entertained at her home Sunday for a baby shower in honor of the arrival last week of Ryan Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Bailey. Adoring relatives were there to admire the baby and bestow him with gifts.

Visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Grant Wright Sunday were her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Douglas from Cliford; also Miss Florie Kirkpatrick from Belfast, Ireland.

The U.C.W. met at the Church for their March meeting.

Joyce Clarke was hostess and was present to welcome members and guests as they arrived. Margaret Jamieson, as president, opened the meeting with a short inspiring poem. Grace McEnery had the devotional. Business period included the last minute planning for the fashion show coming up in April.

Guest speaker was Chris Bushard, who spoke on "Money Matters". Gloria Johnson and Barbara Monroe assisted the hostess serving lunch. It happened to be St. Patrick's Day, so green candles were lit and tables were decorated in honor of the patron saint.

St. Patrick's week meeting featured Botswana study

Euchre at Pinegrove Community Centre had seven tables last Monday night. Prize winners were: Muriel Miller, Pearl Burt, George Burt, Earnie Miller, Lucky Draw: Kay McMillan.

Unit 1 of Norval U.C.W. met at the home of Dorothy McLean Thursday March 19 at 2 p.m.

Marion Laird presided and opened with prayer, which was a quotation from Jean Vanier. Muriel Wey read the minutes and 10 members answered the roll with a "short Irish Story".

Agnes Miller gave an inspiring devotional and Catherine Laidlaw, gave the study on Botswana, when she told that children take their studies in school very seriously. In fact, only a privileged few, who pay, can go to school.

Lunch was served by the hostess and the meeting closed with the benediction.

Get well wishes to Bonnie

McFarlane, who had a hip operation in Peel Memorial Hospital. Also to Mae Shaw and Albert Hunter, who are patients there as well.

Marjorie Lagerquist is convalescing at home after a short stay there, too.
