An exciting week of tournament hockey in Georgetown

The 21st Georgetown International Bantam hockey tournament ended last Saturday night with a strong team from Michigan Kord being declared the overall winners. During the week-long tournament there were many close match-ups as a number of teams had to play past regulation time to decide a winner.

Michigan Adray-Kord completely dominated the tournament play as the 'A' division champions downed the 'B' division Pickering champs 10-2 in the final. The Michigan team faced tougher competition in their semi-final against the 'C' division champs from Markham in which the score ended at 4-0. In the 'A' division final

Michigan downed Detroit Little Ceasars 8-1. In the 'C' division final Markham edged Stouffville 2-1. That Stouffville made it to the 'C' division final is a feather in the cap for the Georgetown Minor Bantams who beat Stouffville in their first game against Stouffville 3-2. In the 'B' division final Pickering defeated Milton

3-2. Copper Cliff beat Levak in the 'D' division to advance against Pickering during the competition on Saturday at Alcott. The Copper Cliff 'D' division game was a close contest as a spirited Copper Cliff team took the match to two overtime periods before

Pickering downed them 3-2. Chairman Al Martin was impressed with the style of hockey that was played during the week. Some teams are still chippy such as the final between Pickering and Michigan when tempers flared and fights occurred. Martin said. Marlin thinks that Gordon

Alcott would be a better ice surface for the skating teams but he foresees no change in the present format where only the final games are played at Alcott arena on Saturday. Jim Nesich of Michigan Adray-Kord team was awarded the Most Valuable Player award while the Most Sportsmanlike award was given to Keith Ridley of Pickering.

Product Pee wees nip Ching

The Product Peepees had to come from behind in the deciding game of the semi-finals, nipping Ching in the overtime period. After being up two games in the series the peepees were surprised by a revitalized Ching squad losing 3-2 and 2-0 respectively. Scoring in game three came from Mike Hurley assisted by Mike Teetzal and Brian Doherty, and Jon Hammer from Mark Pries and Mike Teetzal.

The series being tied at two each the teams met on Georgetown ice for the final. Ching opened the scoring midway through the first frame and scored again late in the second period. Mike Teetzal finally netted one from Brian Doherty early in the third followed by Brian Doherty's tying single from Jon Hammer with five minutes to go. Steve Tucker kept the Reds in the game making many sparkling saves in the latter stages. With the score tied the game was forced into an overtime period. Brian Doherty checked for his third point of the night on a nice setup from Pat Braund. This goal was the winner as Ching was held off the board. Georgetown now advances into the championship round against Dundas.

Industrial hockey Rental stymied by Norval's Syme

The Industrial hockey United Rentals must be wondering just what it takes to beat Norval's Hollywood Tavern.

Last Monday night United were defeated by Hollywood 3-1 but the score did not reflect the play of the United team. In their second game of the best of five Industrial league playoffs, the United squad led 1-0 until two minutes into the third period.

Ernie Schaump put United ahead half-way through the first period from Marcel Trudel and Scott McClelland. During the second period the United team looked strong and were beating Hollywood to the puck the majority of the time. Even in the third period

United looked strong but Ian Syme scored for Norval to tie the game at 1-1 two minutes into the third period assisted by Paul Martin and Brian Beaumont.

Syme scored the go-ahead goal for Norval with four minutes to go in the game from Paul Martin and goalie Robin Insoe. Tempers started to flare as United became frustrated with their inability to pull ahead of the eluding Norval team. Brian Beaumont ended the scoring two minutes later on an assist by Ian Syme to end the scoring for the night.

Norval now leads the best of five series against United two games to none. United were downed 2-1 last March 22 by Norval in the first game of the series.
