Jon on U.S. dirttrack circuit

Cornwell bounces back from first California race

Two Canada's expert dirt-track riders have hit the American National Championship trail in California this month. Canada's National Champion, Peter Grant of Woodbridge, Ont. and Jon Cornwell, rookie AMA expert from Georgetown, Ont. have joined forces to carry the Canadian flag to the Winston Pro Series.

Last minute mechanical problems prevented both riders from making the first of the California races, the Ascot TT, but they arrived in time for the Sacramento Mile. Mechanical gremlins however, continued to dog them. Grant managed to qualify as first alternate for the semi-final but when the call came - his bike failed to start, owing no doubt, to two bent valves. Cornwell, exultant at the prospect of riding a mile track on a competitive machine was disappointed when a gamble with a marginal clutch went sour as the clutch slipped and finally burned out.

Cornwell had evidently bounced back from the disappointment. "Riding the mile is fantastic. I love it - there's nothing else like it. We've just put a new clutch in the bike and Peter has fixed the valves so we're ready to go again. Peter is going to ride the regular Ascot weekend races so we're heading down to L.A. and I'll get a chance to check out the track. We'll be riding "The Mile" at San Jose on May 3rd and the Ascot 1/2 mile May 8th."

Grant's XR750 has been supplied by Fred Deeley Imports, the Canadian Harley Davidson distributor and Cornwell, after a some interesting performances at Daytona has been picked up again by the EGF Racing Team and will be riding the Winston Pro Races on the unique mono-shock Harley built and tuned by Doug Sehl.

Both riders expect to be back in Canada in time to ride the Norm Carr memorial race in Belleville and will follow that up with two quick Eastern Regional championship races in York, Pa. and Harrington Del. The following weekend will find them in Louisville, Kentucky for another shot at "mile" racing.

Both riders are sponsored by Bel-Ray, Canada and Champion Spark plugs and both will be aiming for the Canadian National Championship. With the kind of experience they will be gaining riding at the AMA Nationals, Canadian race fans can expect to witness some exciting battles this summer.

While competing at short-tracks and Canadian half-miles Cornwell will be riding the potent new Panther framed 250 Yamaha supplied by Inglis Cycle Centre in London, Ont. Grant will be campaigning the Panther framed 250cc Harley Davidson that helped him dominate the lightweight class in 1980.

Asked what his goals for the season are, Cornwell promptly rattled off, "Canadian National Champion, AMA Rookie of the Year, and to learn as much as I can."

Cornwell considers himself to be in an interesting position. Granted the unexpected opportunity to compete at the highest level of dirt track racing he is also aware that as a rookie expert he has even less experience than most of the U.S. riders since he has spent only one previous year competing on the AMA circuit.

Cornwell knows he's bitten off a large chunk. "With EGF sponsoring me I've probably, got the most competitive Harley in Canada to ride and with Doug Sehl tuning it, the most meticulous preparation. I just hope I can justify this choice of me as their rider. It's not going to be easy, I've got a lot of catching up to do!"

The EGF Racing Team brings together some of Canada's best dirt-track talent. Semi-retired Canadian and AMA expert Paul Eggleton is acting as team manager and former Canadian National Champion and AMA national rider Doug Sehl is tuning. The group's aim is to see Canadian riders earning AMA national points. Cornwell's conclusion is "We'll never get any better unless we go where the competition is."
