By Barb Presswood

Things to do on a rainy day

Things to do on a rainy Saturday if your stuck in on a dreary weekend:

Here's some basic grooming chores -

Steam facial that you can do at home: bring a pot of water to a boil on your stove, remove pot to a table where you can sit with your face comfortably above the pot (about 12 to 18 inches). Make a tent with a large towel and cover it to let the upward-rising steam engulf your face.

Don't get too close (the steam could scold) and never attempt to steam face while water is actually boiling on Steam for about 10 minutes. Once pores are open, you can proceed with deep cleaning. Gently press out blackheads.

Steam opens the pores so that impurities and blackheads can be expelled. It benefits oily skin that tends to get clogged. Close pores up again with a cold compress. Manicures and pedicures: This job should be done every week. Here's how to go about the manicure. Remove all old nail polish; file nails into perfect ovals with an emery board or a diamond Deb, massage cream into cuticles and gently push them back. Never cut cuticles. Soak fingers in soapy water for a few minutes. Nails should be totally grease-free for polish application.

Dry nails, apply a clear base coat, let dry and apply two coats of colored polish. Polish should go on in three strokes from nail base to tip.

Pedicures: Follow the same basic steps as a manicure, but it can be messier. Thread a tissue through toes or use cotton balls to prevent smudging. Clip toenalls to proper length (shorter than the end of toe), then use a file to smooth edged.

Try some homemade facial masks on that rainy day, Beat egg whites with a few drops of champagne and apply once a week as a beauty mask. Also cucumber is excellent for the skin, simply cut a piece of cucumber and rub it all over your face.

All aglow with spring yellow

I came back, this time with yellow, and what more appropriate color than this one for spring? Yellow is well known for mental stimulation and is the color for intellect and reason. Think about people you know who drive yellow cars. (Broad statement!) Spiritually, it symbolizes wisdom and enlightenment;

hence we have the color of the halo.

The third chakra, or spinal energy centre, represents the nervous system, solar plexus and digestion, thus the action of yellow is eliminative on the liver and intestines, purifying the whole system, especially the skin.

Mentally, yellow is positive, joyful and cheery. resembling the brightness of sunshine which our bodies crave, as opposed to being depressed on grey rainy days. This color should stimulate the logical mind and reasoning powers.

Try this experiment: the next time you have to study something, or want to be able to recall what you've read, place a piece of yellow plastic or cellophane over the print and read through it. Why do some people swear that placing a book to be read or studied under their pillows when sleeping makes them "absorb" the material more efficiently?

I only write about it, experiment with it, but never do I make it up. I have better things to do with my precious

When house decorating with yellow, it must be remembered that it is a very warm color, from bright to soft pale shade, and stimulating so, depending on usage, perhaps accenting with yellow is the best. While looking over your flowers in the outdoor gardens which almost pop out at you the dark reds-blues or the oranges-yellows? Use yellow plants-flowers to set patterns in your flower beds.

Just to save time and argument, because we do not know of some things does not mean they do not exist. Anyway, this is supposed to be my "fun" column. Watch out! Coming next is GREEN.

School board compromises on PD days

Three hours of heated debate that necessitated two Halton board of education meetings in five days have added an eighth professional development (PD) day to the elementary school system's 1981-82 season.

Trustees rescinded an existing motion designating seven PD days April 23, but were deadlocked over a proposal to set up nine days during the coming school year. The meeting had to be reconvened April

"The taxpayers are paying for this," trustee Noel Cooper contended. "The most importrooms for the students."

With the matter unresolved at the end of their regular Thursday night meeting. trustees reconvened the was struck. Eight days designated for 1981-82 PD days are
