Silver Creek plans concern CVCA

Concern over the future of its new Silver Creek Conservation Area has prompted the Credit Valley Conservation Authority to prepare a report for the Niagara Escarpment Commission (NEC) suggesting revisions in the Commission's future acquisition plans. The report, prepared by senior conservation planner Rose Menyes and approved by the Authority executive Friday, was to be presented at the NEC's Halton sector hearings Monday in Burlington.

Ms. Menyes told the executive Friday that the NEC's proposed land use plan does not recognize the Authority's Silver Creek lands as property already granted by the province for conservation use. If implemented, she warned, the NEC plan could be confusing for the public and for the various agencies involved in approval processes.

Ms. Menyes' report asks the NEC to revise the plan's future acquisitions section and better reflect the co-operation between the NEC and the Authority. The Authority has already given the proposed plan its support in principle.

Halton 4-H Junior Farmers Press Release

The May meeting of the Halton Junior Farmers was held May 11 at the Robert Baldwin School in Milton.

Jeff Nurse, Georgetown, presented the tape and slide set on the "Invisible Giant, Strengths and Weaknesses of Agriculture in Halton". This was prepared last year by the Halton Community Pulse Group which is associated with the Rural Development Outreach Project at Guelph. It deals with the pressures on agriculture in Halton from urban encroachment.

Mike Cassidy, from the Liquor Control Board, then gave us a talk on the Liquor Licence Law.

Halton 4-H Junior Dairy Club

The second meeting of the Halton Junior Dairy Club took place May 11 at Chris and Valerie Richardson's farm. All 18 members were present. The meeting was opened by President, Amanda Kunica, then turned over to Jeff Nurse, Ken McNabb, and Bill Robinson, the 4-H leaders for our club.

We reviewed the parts of a cow and the point system according to their conformation. We then proceeded into the barn where we judged a class of Jersey cows. A lot of members scored high on this class. The reasons for this were discussed by our 4-H leaders. A second class of cows which were aged Holsteins were judged and reasons were given. Many people thought that this was the easiest class to judge. The last class we judged and gave reasons on was very hard. No one judged this class correctly. The official reasons were given by Ken Ella, a Jersey Breeder. Later we had chocolate milk and donuts courtesy of Chris and Valerie Richardson.
