

The 'I Love Georgetown' bus is rolling your way

Herald Special
 "I LOVE GEORGETOWN" appreciation scrolls will be presented to about 100 homeowners in Georgetown and area this Saturday (June 20).
 An "I Love Georgetown Bus" will be visiting the community and homeowners are being asked to decorate their front windows, doors and lawns in whatever manner they wish in order to instill community spirit and to help appreciate our community.

 This newspaper is printing an "I Love Georgetown Symbol" for you to use. You can cut this out and place it on your window or door.
 "Do not be surprised to see Mayor Pete Pomeroy, MP John McDermid, MPP Julian Reed, Postmaster Gil King, a school trustee, a Halton official or councillor or this newspaper editor or some other person come knocking at your door to say congratulations and to present you with an Appreciation Scroll", says Tom Ramautarsingh, Chairman of the I Love Georgetown programme.

ACTIVITIES
 Brian Bush reports projects:

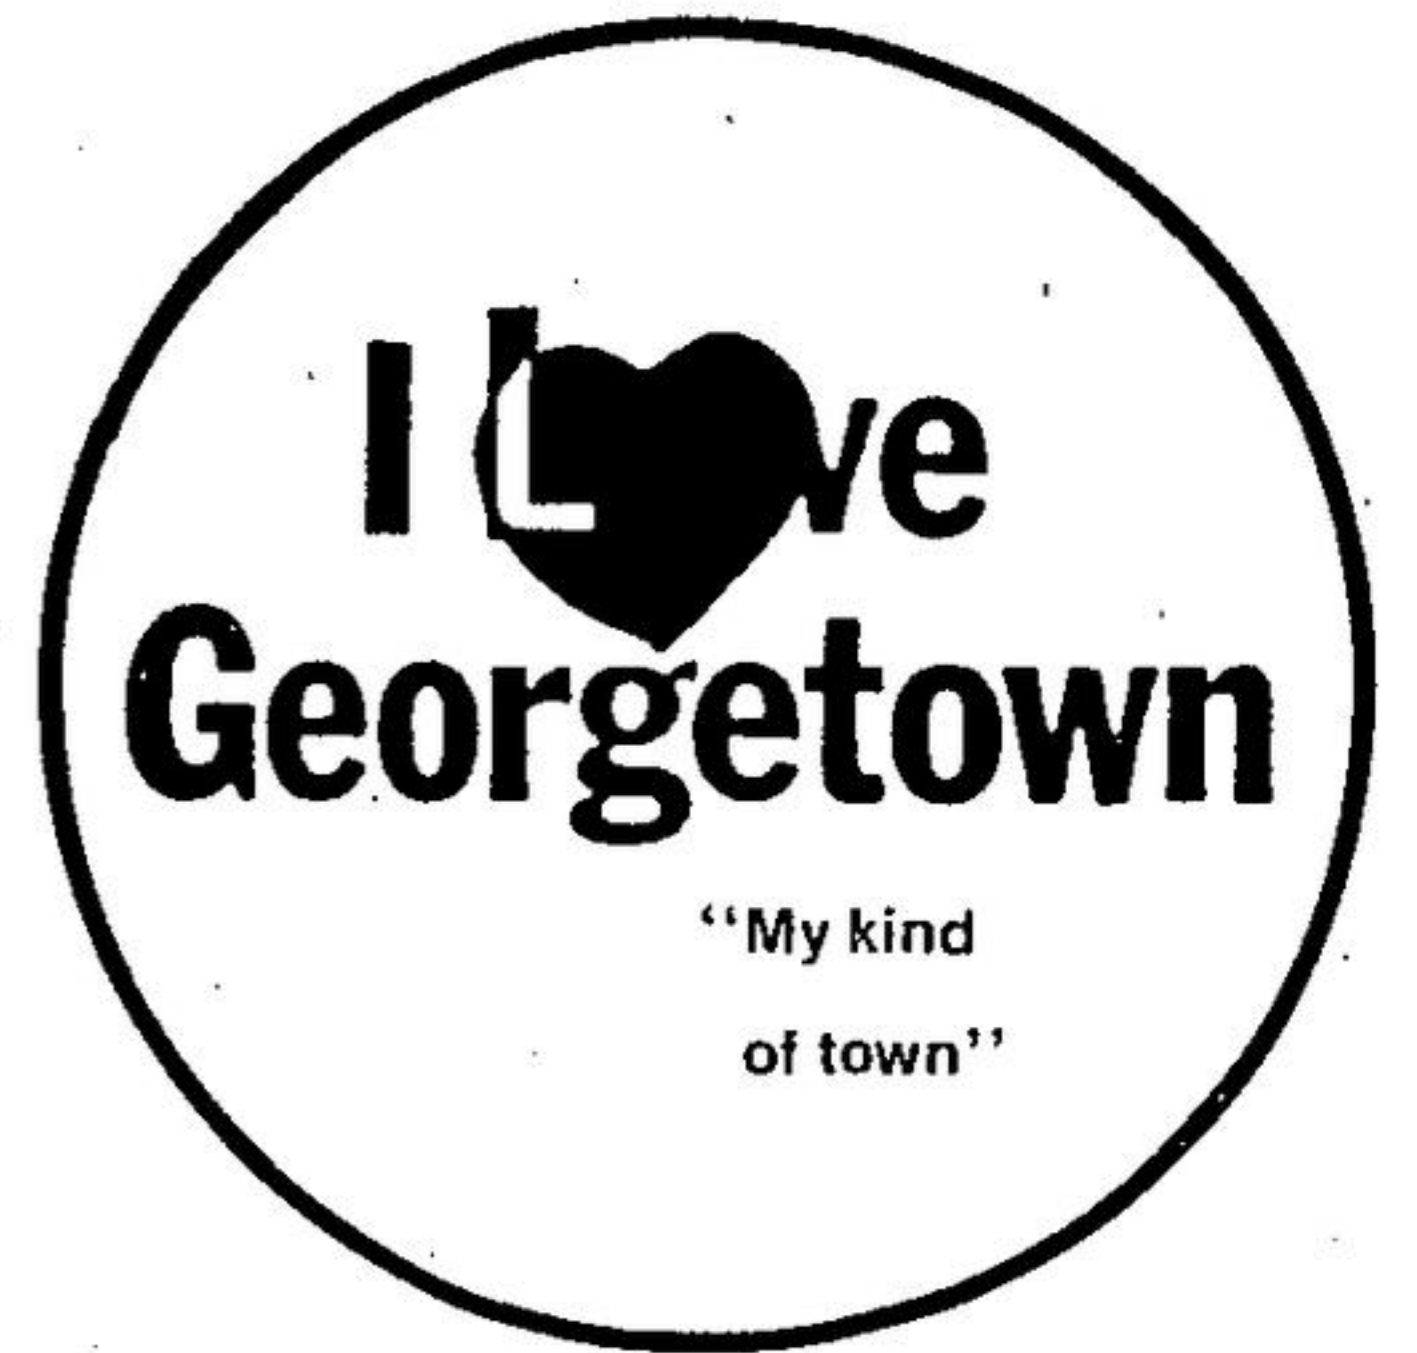

1. Georgetown 5th Venturers painted a senior citizen's carport on Fagan Drive Thursday and Friday;
2. The Columbian Squires went to 100 Rexway Drive to assist Hope Keanon (a senior citizen) with the pruning of shrubs, digging out weeds and cutting the lawn. Miss Keanon said, "They have done a marvellous job. There was an awful lot of work to do. The boys were never idle for one minute. Georgetown should be proud of these young people. I would not mind having regular visits of this nature".
 About the I Love Georgetown Programme, Miss Keanon said, "It is a wonderful idea to have such a programme. My father, mother and myself moved to Georgetown in 1958, then Sykes Tool Corporation which was on Guelph Street opposite Spot on 7, moved to Detroit. I went along with father and mother but returned in 1972 because people in Georgetown are so friendly";
3. St. John's United Church Sunday School Primary and Intermediate Departments under the leadership of Debbie Armstrong and Cheryl Broughton, made a flower bed and planted petunias, chrysanthemums and alliums as part of their I Love Georgetown Project.

The Columbian Squires showed how much they love Georgetown as they help fellow citizens beautify their homes and gardens. Hope Keanon gratefully watches her young helpers (left to right) Don Nolan, Joe Vieira and Pete Coffey. The Columbian Squires helped Miss Keanon with her gardening duties at her Rexway Drive home Saturday. They will be presented with an achievement award from the "I Love Georgetown" committee for their participation in the program.

New Clothes
 When asked by his tailor if the new suit fit, the grumpy executive said: "The jacket isn't bad but the trousers are a little loose around the armpits."

An investigation conducted by the RCMP later showed that Mr. Osborne also shared responsibility and he was subsequently arrested.
