

That sportspeak scramble of those spirited Royalettes

It's only fitting Herald's Sportsweek should introduce the 'Sportspeak scramble' of the Legion Royalettes to those who have yet to see our Intermediate fastball girls from Georgetown.

When the Royalettes host the Ontario fastball finals at the Georgetown fairgrounds August 14 many loyal fans might be seeing the Legion girls for the first time.

As well as fielding a team of fine batters and defensive players, coach Wilkes has perhaps unknowingly, produced one of the best back-slapping and vocally vivacious teams in Halton Hills.

One can be entertained by the sound of the cracking bat as a Royalette connects for a triple, or the sound of a Legion baserunner swishing into second on a slide, or the enthusiasm inspired by the infield as they spur on pitchers Barb Curry and Michelle Melhm.

Norval Junction, the former Way-Jay club location. A baseball tournament is also a possibility for August.

The Gemini's have discontinued their dry land training and have booked ice at Meadowdale arena twice a week for veteran and prospective Gemini's. Let's hope the cost of ice time will pay off for the Gemini's as they prepare for a successful '81 season. General manager Bob Tost says the early ice training is common with a number of Junior B teams - it's certainly a first for Georgetown.

Tost says faces are coming and going all the time at the training sessions and he says there are a few players he'd like to sign right away.

Surprisingly enough, none of the hockey clubs are talking about prospects which they hope can help their team.

MUMS THE WORD
Mums the word on recruiting for last year's coach of the year, Acton Sabres Jules Russian. He'd only go so far as to say he's "done a lot of recruiting," this year for the Sabres.

Meanwhile Jules, who's also active as an Acton Oldtimer in the town's fastball league, has been helping the Guelph Minor Hockey Association pick a midget team which will play Czechoslovakia in November.

The GMHA approached Jules at the end of the season and last May he and two others hand-picked a squad from Guelph and area who will play the Czechs for two weeks while being billeted in their homes.

Starting with 82 prospects, Jules said the three-man committee looked for speed, quick thinkers and all-round mobile hockey players to face the Czechs.

If the squad were playing at home, the committee might have favored more aggressive players, but it's not the main prerequisite in playing Europeans, Jules says.

The midget team was picked by the middle of May and they practice three times a week, as well as playing the occasional exhibition game.

The tireless workers responsible for making the Georgetown Chrysler machine run smoothly have been holding meetings every two weeks, says club president Bob Hooper.

RAIDER'S TRAVEL.

Next week the executive travel to Collingwood to draw up their schedule for the coming season. As president, Hooper is starting to appoint various people to different jobs required for the season.

Four or five new executive members will be joining the club shortly, Hooper says. The president announced last week that GM Dave Kentner has been returned to his position by unanimous consent of the executive.

Meanwhile, although the Raiders are still disappointed about further expansion of their league, they are turning their thoughts to more pressing, current matters. Dave Kentner is looking for some assistants to help him carry what he calls, "A horrendous workload."

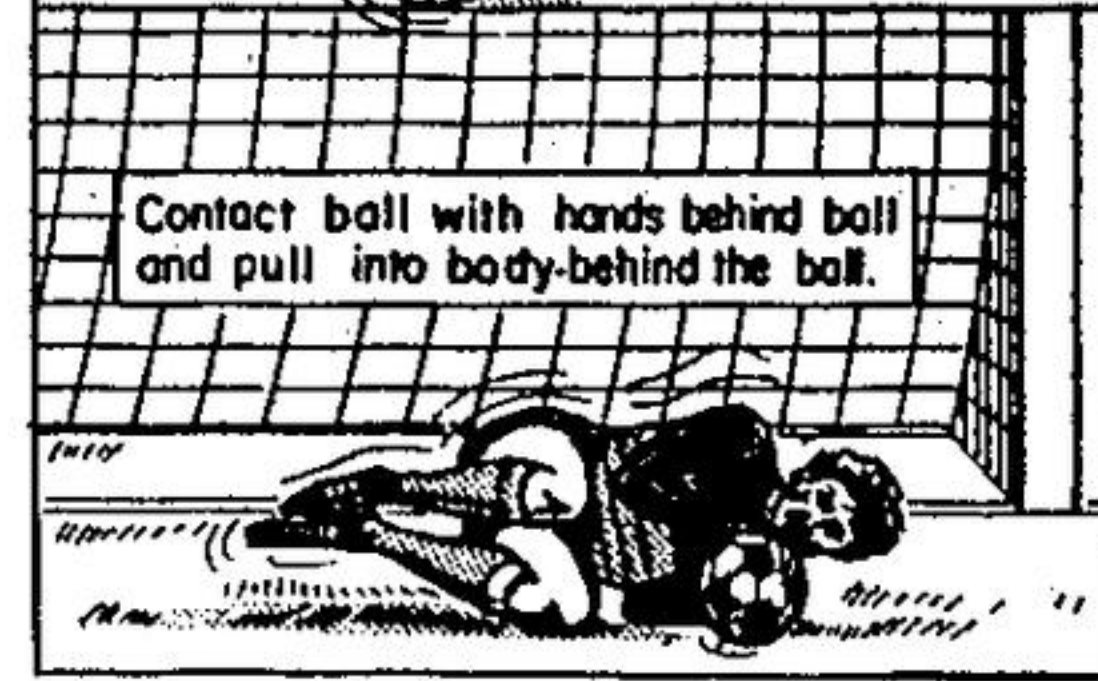

"It will be my last year as GM, win or lose," Kentner says.

One new addition to the team will be the input of the players on the team to help run the club as far as equipment costs and decision making. The club has a meeting with some of the players, including captain Juri Kudrasovs this June 16 to discuss matters involving the team and the players.

As far as recruiting goes, Kentner says, "I've talked to enough players to completely re-stock this hockey club for next year." The All Star game proposed by the Georgetown Chrysler Raiders is set to go this year, January 15 at Gordon Alcott. Buy your tickets early!

Mariners tie Juniors

Due to deadlines, Falcon reports are late in getting into print. The latest result available is a 1-3 decision loss to BDA Cavaliers in Toronto. The team were still in the match until a penalty shot sealed their fate. This Monday saw the seniors take the field against strong opposition in Dynamoo.

Coach Stu Robbins is working hard to create the team work necessary to pull the team together. The Junior Falcons, without a game, put up a creditable performance against the Ancient Mariners in a 1-1 tied exhibition game.

For the first 20 minutes the youngsters pushed the ball around and looked very good. A couple of substitutes by the Juniors and steady play by the Mariners led to a close game.

Investing for the Mariners were Ed Paterson, Dan Shields, Les Tinsley and Malcolm Tough. Dan Shields scored for Mariners and Randy Robinson equalizes with 10 minutes left. Also turning out for the older team in the second half were Miguel Micklethwaite and Gary Hulbert, who both are Bantams, and they did all right.

The Bantams have been matchless for a couple of weeks due to drop outs and a gap in league schedules. Coach Geo Baines has had no luck in obtaining "friendly" for the lads.

Mississauga united, Miss. South and West have all combined this year to form a formidable soccer force in Peel-Halton. Formerly a "Rep" only club united were mainly concerned in Metro Toronto league play.

The Ontario ruling of all clubs providing competitive and recreational soccer brought about the new club. It should not be long before the new club is a truly major force to rival Oakville and Burlington.

SOCCER HOTBED
In our early years, Georgetown youth soccer was a hotbed where visiting teams trembled. The cycle passes and no longer are we feared on the field. (Administratively we are allowed nevertheless). Our teams still command respect in their respective divisions and there are definite signs of improvement all round.

Two week layoff doesn't hurt Raiders

After a two week layoff the Minor Mosquito Raiders played two home games during the week.

Thursday night the Raiders defeated visiting Milton by a 4-2 count. The team came out flying to build a 3-0 lead with James Walraven earning a goal and two assists. Also scoring were Billy Murphy and Allan Jonassen with Brent Brazz assisting on Walraven's opening goal. Milton managed to put one in the net before half time.

Ricky Fitzpatrick stretched the margin to 4-1 with a goal from Danny Lane and Teddy Weatherall in the second half. Milton closed out the scoring but fell short to suffer their third defeat. Despite a humid evening Kenny Langdon, Davin Ciglen and Trevor Harkley played a strong game.

Saturday at noon the Raiders kicked off against the St. Catharines A team in an Ontario Cup match but found their opposition just too strong to handle.

Johnny Stefan played an outstanding game in net with Glenn Mulder and Dave Wood also turning in a super performance. Final score in this one was St. Catharines 3 and Georgetown 0.

THE SWITCH FROM OIL TO GAS SHOULD BE YOUR LAST RESORT

The government wants you to use less oil to heat your home. So do we. Some people think switching to gas is the automatic answer. Our advice: BE CAUTIOUS. In a front page story on Monday, June 22nd the Globe and Mail said: "Experts for energy utilities and government agree that the consumer's task of picking the most economical alternative is at best a gamble." By providing you with a FREE Energy Audit Boehmers can lessen the gamble. We show you alternatives. Discuss savings and costs. We offer you CHOICES. But the decision should be, and must be, YOURS.

- For example, if your oil furnace is relatively new and in good running order, it makes better economic sense to consider these 5 STEPS:
1. Have it tuned to top efficiency.
 2. Replace the burner with a flame retention head model.
 3. Reduce the burner nozzle size.
 4. Consider a HEAT PUMP - it may cut your oil consumption by 70 per cent (Lennox models do) - AND qualify you for the government's "off oil subsidy." (Now that's something the gas man isn't going to tell you!)
 5. Plan to switch to electric heat by the mid '80s. Experts say that electric heat, not gas, is the fuel of the future. Produced in Ontario. For Ontarians.

Our advice is: Don't be misled into any energy-related job in your home without:
1. Carefully considering the choices open to you.
2. Checking the costs and weighing them against the advantages. Call us. Ask for a free Energy Audit. Or mail the coupon.
