

Delicious Mac's Snacks on Delrex Blvd.

Like the commercials say: It's on your way home. That's the catch line Mary Engleby said she is counting on as she opened Georgetown's third Mac's variety store Friday afternoon.

The new store, located on the corner of Guelph Street and Delrex Boulevard, will hope-fully attract many Georgetown residents who turn into Delrex Boulevard on their way home from work every night or who pass by on their way to work in the morning. Its advantageous spot, with easy access to both Highway 7 and Delrex Boulevard, Mary says, is on the main route into the subdivision. A prominent sign will also be set up on the corner to attract any customers heading out of town.

The store will stock the standard Mac's line of goods of soft drinks, groceries and milk and they are featuring the newest addition to the Mac's line, Mac's Snacks.

This is Mac's answer for the late-night nibbler or anyone who needs a quick bite in a hurry. They feature 20 varieties of sandwiches, hamburgers, sub-marines, danishes, coffee and fruit flavored slush. It will even have that first morning cup of coffee ready for any early risers since they are open seven days a week from 7 in the morning until midnight.

District manager Dietmar Franke said that the Mac's chain had been eyeing the property on the corner for about a year but they had to wait until it became developed. Once the building was constructed, Mac's made their move and leased the store.

Mary Engleby is the independent dealer of the store. A long-time Georgetown resident, Mary is no newcomer to the Mac's family. She had been working for two years at the Moore Park Mac's store and said she really enjoys the business.

When she heard that the company was planning to open a third Georgetown outlet, she applied to be considered as a dealer.

After her application was processed, she had to take a exam and was finally accepted as an independent dealer.

The new outlet has joined an ever-growing Mac's chain of stores all across the country. Boasting at least 1200 outlets in

Blood relatives

In 1980 The Canadian Red Cross Society collected more than one million units of blood from voluntary donors. More than 300,000 people received blood transfusions. Giving blood is giving life.

Today, one unit of blood given to the Red Cross can be broken down into several components and each of these components can be used to help a different person.

Leadership creates its own demands.

Never content simply to keep step with or keep up to average industry performances, The Commercial Life establishes another precedent with the introduction of their new TR-70, a precedent-setting Executive 5 Year Term Policy.

Special TR-70 policies continue to be available at competitive standard rates.

Recently introduced Non-Smoker discounts make lower premiums possible, provided you have not smoked for the last 12 months.

*Now the TR-70 OPTIMUM discount establishes a new precedent with an even lower rate category for those who have not smoked for 2 years and meet the necessary additional qualifications.

Now the TR-70 OPTIMUM discount is available at a new rate that is probably lower than any other Term policy available in Canada.
