

TIME FOR FALL PLANTING

Elly Tullman, proprietor of Tullman's Garden Centre and Landscaping near Acton was joined by antique buff Terence Gwyer Saturday for a combined garden and antique sale at the Highway 25 business. A variety of garden goods were available at the sale just in time for fall gardening and Mr. Gwyer displayed some pieces he has recently refinished as a hobby.

Forums on day care's future start today in Acton - region

Herald Special
Halton regional Coun. Ann Mulvale announced last week that open houses will be held starting today on the future of day care services in Halton. Coun. Mulvale is chairman of the Halton Day Care Study Steering Committee. The open houses will be held at the following locations:
ACTON - today (Wednesday) at 7 p.m. Acton Community Centre
BURLINGTON - Sept. 29 at 7 p.m. Burlington Central Library
GEORGETOWN - Sept. 22 at 7 p.m. Gordon Alcott Arena
MILTON - Sept. 24 at 7 p.m. Milton Public Library
OAKVILLE - tomorrow (Thursday) at 7 p.m. Oakville Centennial Library Halton residents are invited to attend these open houses and encouraged to offer their comments and reactions to the report, "Halton Regional Day Care Study Final Draft Report". This report, tabled before regional council in June, was prepared by regional staff and the consulting firm of Boston, Gilbert and Henry Associates. Public input was obtained in preparing the report by way of a survey of Halton residents. A questionnaire was designed and distributed to 4,000 households between October and December 1980. Further input is being sought at the open houses in order that the region can be assured that sound recommendations are prepared. Coun. Mulvale said the report identifies four key issues facing Halton with respect to day care:

1 - What will be the region's role in day care services to families "in need" and how will they deliver that service?
2 - How much day care will be provided?
3 - Who needs day care in Halton?
4 - How should day care services be provided to Halton residents?
She said the most significant conclusions stemming from the study included the fact that the majority of Halton residents support the need for some form or degree of subsidized arrangements for low income families. The study concluded that there is an imbalance in the distribution of "need" within the region and the present allocation of resources. There is a serious imbalance at the present time with Burlington being relatively underserved. This is supported by the fact that 65 per cent of the families on the regional waiting list for subsidized care are residents of Burlington. Finally, the study concluded that to best mobilize the day care resources in Halton, the region must act as a catalyst. This role will continue to allow the free market system to meet demands where economically viable, but yet provide stability in those areas where viability does not currently exist, or where it may never exist. Coun. Mulvale also said that copies of the executive Summary of the report are available on request to the public by calling 878-9113 or 853-0501, extension 303.

New closure policy

The Halton Board of Education has approved a formal policy and administrative procedures covering school closures and consolidations. These new policy statements, passed Thursday by the board of trustees, will not affect Halton Hills for some time since enrolment is high in local public schools. Each fall, schools whose enrolment is projected to reach a minimum enrolment according to board standards will be identified by area superintendents and closing the school will become a real possibility within three years.

The school community will be notified by letter if such a projection is foreseen and a School Study Group will be set up to consider growth potential and alternatives to closing the school. They may consider combining schools whose enrolment is flagging. The School Study Group will present its findings to the board by December of the year in which the study was begun and a public meeting will be

Dump trucks collide

Over $120,000 damage was caused to two dump trucks which collided Sept. 9 on the Indusium Quarries Property in RR4 Acton. Constantine Telcristis of Toronto was driving his 1979 dump truck west when he collided with a southbound truck owned by Indusium, driven by Fred Lookerbie of Kingham Road in Acton. The lack of signs or markings for vehicle travel on the property may be to blame for the accident.

HOME OF THE WEEK

PLAN #81-1608
12.0m x 42.11m

100m² x 76.2m² lot

17.20' x 28.44' lot

TWO-STOREY COTTAGE HAS FULL BASEMENT

This charming two-storey home design is ideally suited to the narrow-to-medium frontage residential building lot and appears to be a compact home; however, its appearance is deceptive and it contains a surprising 1,600 square feet of finished floor area on two levels, for present use, and boasts a full basement for the future development of additional accommodations and/or family recreational area. The eye-catching exterior is finished in horizontal channel siding, with large front-facing brick chimney and sky-lit roof.

The weather-sheltered main entry leads into a long reception foyer and outer-wear storage area, which conceals a two-piece vanity bath behind a space-saving pocket door. From the foyer, traffic moves either left, into the dinette-family room combination, or to the right, into the long rectangular formal living room. The living room features a raised-hearth masonry fireplace flanked by small privacy windows for view and natural light, and a sliding glass walk-through providing access to the rear-facing balcony. A convenient pocket door provides excellent separation of formal dining when entertaining and more casual family meals.

A well-planned L-shape kitchen and dinette-family room provides excellent cupboard storage, abundant countertop work surfaces and a step-saving work triangle configuration. The family room provides access to both the single-car enclosed garage and the basement, via winding stairway.

All three bedrooms are positioned on the second level, accessible via stairway from the main entrance foyer. Each has ample closet storage and good exposure for view and natural light. The large master bedroom has a full walk-in closet and a wide wall closet, and a three-piece ensuite bathroom with tub. The upper level hallway and stairwell are bathed in natural light provided by a roof skylight.

This is an outstandingly good design which provides great charm and eye-appeal, allied to maximum utilization of available space.

1608 may be purchased either by the single lot, at a cost of $125,000 for the first set and $25,000 for each additional set, or by the package. A five-set plan package, including the first set, is economically priced at $180,000 and an eight-set package, also including the first set, is only $220,000.

Whichever method you choose, please include $5.00 for postage and handling. Ontario residents please add 7% sales tax.

Send for the current edition of Select Home Designs magazine, series 50, featuring imaginative decorating and home improvement ideas, plus 250 quality home plans of every type. Available for $2.75 ($2.00 plus .75¢ postage and handling).

To order any of these items please send cheque or money order, payable to the Home of the Week. Address: Home of the Week, c/o The Halton Hills Herald, Suite 201, 891A Jane Street, Toronto, Ontario, M6N 4C4.
