Stars of 'Not Now Darling'
Enthusiasm motivates Rod

"You have to start some time, and there's no time like the present."
Those were the thoughts running through the mind of a certain young man recently when he heard that casting was taking place for Georgetown Little Theatre's fall production "Not Now, Darling". And with those "nothing ventured..." thoughts still in mind, he decided to attend the auditions.
Name? Rod Cook. Address? Georgetown - all my life. Occupation? Grade 12 student at good of GDHS. Experience? Er, would you believe, a wise man in the Grade 2 Christmas play? Grade 2? Well, no matter, GLT welcomes new members, with or without experience.
And with those few words Rod was catapulted into the supporting role of one Mr. Lawson in "Not Now, Darling".

The role will no doubt present a challenge to Rod as he will be required to portray a man some ten years his senior. But this young man is full of energy and enthusiasm for his first thespian adventure, to the extent he is already considering pursuing acting as a full-time career. Rehearsals are well under way, with director Ron Hill putting the cast through their paces.
GLT invites you to come along and enjoy the comedy "Not Now, Darling", also to encourage and support Rod in his first major role. The show runs Oct. 16, 17, 22, 23 and 24, plus the Benefit Show Oct. 15, followed by a wine and cheese party. A telephone call to 877-5407 will reserve you a seat to see one of the best shows in town.

Minister inspires Sunday Schoolers

By WINNIFRED SMITH
Herald Correspondent
877-2000

This was the second Sunday for the new minister, Dr. Bandy to preach here. It was noticed his order of service was slightly different from the previous minister, Rev. Stiles.

The children were not disappointed as he had a short but entertaining little story for them early in the service before they went down to their classes. Sunday School began again Sept. 13 for the fall and winter season.

Eileen McEnery, organist, accompanied Susan O'Connor at the piano when she sang the anthem which the congregation enjoyed.

The minister's sermon was based on the verse of scripture which reads "The First Shall Be Last, and The Last Shall Be First". It made one think of the greed of many people in the world today who strive to be on top looking for seniority. In God's sight everyone is important regarding their status in the labor force.

It is not too late to enroll in the fitness class sponsored by the Halton Hills recreation department and held in the Ballinafad Community Centre Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 9:30 to 10:30. Classes start this week. Marilyn McQueen will be instructing the classes. A good response is requested from at least 15 women.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Grey from High Wycombe, England, are enjoying a holiday with their uncle and aunt, Winnie and Frank Smith and other relatives in the community.

Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. J. Jones of the Fifth Line on the birth of a little daughter.

Sorry to hear that the little seven-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henri Gagne is in hospital. We hope he has a complete recovery very soon.

HALTON HILLS ELKS LODGE BINGO EVERY MONDAY 51 Numbers

Herald Special
Actario ticket sales appear to be slow so far this year, says committee chairman Ted Tyler.
So far the committee has 600 tickets for the coming year of draws in the hands of ticket sellers, but no one knows exactly how many of these tickets have been sold.
Mr. Tyler says ticket sellers seemed to be very relaxed about making sales this year and didn't jump on the band wagon when the tickets first became available three months ago. Now some of the sellers are saying holders won't buy again this year while others are having no trouble.
"It all depends on the individual," he said. "We went out and wound up all the service clubs last year to get them selling tickets. This year I didn't do that. Maybe it's my fault."
Whatever the answer may be, Mr. Tyler has reminded all ticket sellers they have to have their tickets in by the end of September so the committee knows where it stands.
