Australian visitor flees from sharks

By KAY WILSON
Herald Correspondent

Pinegrove Community Club met at the home of Gertrude McGee Nov. 23, with Alan Harrop as chairman, Committee for the next eucyre games will be the Harrops and Branders. A report from the program committee was given by Peggy Early.

Guest speaker Clive Midwinter was introduced by Ruth Thompson. He showed slides and talked about Australia, New Zealand, Tonga and Fiji. Among his slides were shots of beautiful coral reefs off Australia.

Mr. Midwinter told how he met up with a shark while snorkelling among the coral reefs. Apparently the shark did nip him, but he and a fellow swimmer made for the shore fast. Swimming atop the coral scratched Mr. Midwinter's chest so that he was bleeding when he hit the beach.

Mr. Midwinter was presented with a small token by Gertrude McGee to show everyone's appreciation and lunch was served by Irene Hunter and Grace May.

The opening of one section of the old Brampton CPR station will take place this weekend at the Hutton Nurseries. The old station has been restored to its original form as much as possible. The station is to be the showroom for crafts, flowers and plant containers as well as Christmas trees and decorations. Demonstrations will take place from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday. Everyone is welcome.

Fifty years later, Lloyd and Lola (right) decided to honor that big occasion in the Ballinafad Community Hall, sharing their happiness with long time area friends, including Bessie Leitch, Lloyd's cousin and along with her husband, James form the couple who stood for Lola and Lloyd the day they got married. For much of his life, Lloyd has been an Eighth Line, Ballinafad, farmer. The Marshalls have two daughters, five grand children and one great-grandchild.

Village active as Marshalls celebrate 50 years together

By WINIFRED SMITH

The village was alive with activity Saturday afternoon when people from far and near came to honor one of our esteemed, well-known senior couples, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Marshall, who were celebrating 50 years of married life.

Their two daughters, Blanche and Ruth, along with their husbands and families, worked together to make it an event their parents and grandparents would not soon forget. There was an open house in the Community Centre from 2 to 5 Saturday afternoon. The scene was a busy one when scores of people came to offer their congratulations to the happy couple.

The matron of honor and the best man Mr. and Mrs. Jim Leitch of Acton, who attended the bride and groom of 50 years ago were present and were given a place of honor at this special event beside Lola and Lloyd.

The tables set up in the Hall were covered with gold tablecloths and in the centre of each was a vase containing a golden rose bud. The side table looked beautiful as it graced the lovely anniversary wedding cake, with lighted candles placed on each side of it.

To add to the picture, some beautiful floral arrangements were on display. The W. I. kept the supply of tea and coffee coming up from the basement, also a variety of tasty sandwiches to serve at the tea tables.

The U.C.W. catered to a sumptuous roast beef dinner in the evening at the church basement.

Besides the honored guests and their families, relatives, friends and long-time neighbors, numbering over 80 were guests. All enjoyed the delicious dinner and the entertainment which followed. This happy occasion will long be remembered by all those who attended.

There will be a "Beaver Colony" starting in the village. The first meeting will be Dec. 9 between 8:30 and 7:45 on a Wednesday evening. Registration will be that same night.

The age of the boys will be 5 to 7 years, so parents with sons that age please support and attend.

If this Beaver Colony can be organized, there will be three boy scout events in this area, namely Cubs, Scouts and the Beavers. For further information call Connie Blieby at 877-4973.

We were sorry to hear that young Jeff Larson (formerly of the Sixth Line now living in Milton) spent last week in the Milton Hospital. He is now home recuperating from his illness.

The Schwartz family lit the candle for the first Sunday in Advent during the service at church. The Junior Choir under the direction of Mr. Pinkerton sang a delightful anthem, with Mr. Pinkerton at the piano and Mrs. McEnery playing the organ.

It was announced that in two weeks time, Dec. 13, it is to be family Sunday, so all come to join the extra time of fellowship and have lunch after the service.

Keep in mind there is to be a Christmas Eve service at the church. The beautiful floral arrangements which were placed in the church were appreciated.

Stuart Eckert attended the Woolco Christmas party over the weekend and was fortunate in winning a prize.

The Variety Concert which was to have been this Friday night at the Community Centre has been cancelled.

Special honors given to lucky residents

By Mrs. JOHN BELLBODDY
Herald Correspondent

That wonderful magical month of the whole year, December, is here again, time for the red and green and bright tinsel to be brought out and used.

Stores and homes will soon be "gleaming" with colored lights and the sparkling eyes of the children as they look forward to the visit of Santa sets the mood of happiness and good cheer, but in the flurry of shopping, baking and wrapping, let us never lose sight of the great gift God gave to mankind: his son Jesus.

We have some lucky people in our little hamlet. Congratulations to Marilyn McNabb who was chosen Dairy Princess for Halton in Milton Nov. 7. Also to Mrs. James Fisher who won a trip to Hawaii. This hard-working farming couple truly deserve this trip and we know whenever Jim and her take off they will really enjoy it.

Congratulations to the McPhail family on winning prizes for their fowl, also to the McNabbs for three firsts on cattle and a trophy for another at the Royal Winter Fair. It all helps to create interest and boost the attendance.

New trustees receive more orientation

New school board trustees will be getting a break next year. Current trustees at the Halton Board of Education voted to give them more thorough sessions of orientation over several months of their inaugural terms.

"There's so much for new trustees to absorb," Arlene Bruce of Acton said Thursday. "I know last year we just had information thrown at us solidly for three or four hours for two weeks. My mind was bogged down with all the info."

Mrs. Bruce is in her second year as trustee for Ward 1 in Halton Hills. She said the orientation should give new trustees a chance to meet with the various groups they'll be working with and for.

"After the first meeting, you're called on to make very responsible decisions right off the bat and it's difficult," she said.

The orientation for new trustees will follow the 1982 elections, and add to orientation sessions offered by the biannual Ontario School Trustees' Council conferences.
