

Minor Pee wees lose two

By L. THIBAUT
Herald Special

The Georgetown United Fire Safety Minor Pee Wees were struggling last week as they came out on the wrong end of another encounter with their rivals from Burlington last Tuesday (Dec. 8).

As has occurred in two previous games, Burlington went ahead quickly by two goals early in the first period, and we had an uphill battle from then on. Jeff Brady found the target first for Georgetown, assisted by Dave Harris and Mark Shepherd in the first period. However, the opponents added another two goals before Frazer Dougal of the home team scored in the second period, assisted by Alain Thibault. The final score was 5-2.

On Saturday, the Minor Pee Wees played a return exhibition game against Markham who are leading their league in the region East of Metro Toronto.

In this match, Georgetown got off to a good start early in the first period on a goal by David Harris, assisted by Trent Burton. However, Markham kept plugging away and had chalked up four unanswered goals before Trent Burton scored again for Georgetown on a solo effort midway through the third period.

The game ended in a 4-2 win for the guests. A noteworthy feature of the game was the "clutch and grab" type of hockey played by the opponents which proved frustrating for our team and resulted in seven minor infractions being called against Markham.

Our boys were drawn into this style as they attempted to respond and were called for four minor infractions. Still, coaches agreed it was good experience to play a team from another league.
