

Local blind residents were treated to dinner prepared by the Georgetown Lions Club Tuesday night. As a generous Christmas gesture, the Club presented Peel-Halton Canadian National Institute for the Blind rep Don Fergusson (centre) with a $150 cheque for his organization. A Lions Club member himself, Mr. Fergusson received the cheque from Lions Vic Bristolow (right) and Ken Neely.

While last Tuesday's dinner sponsored by the Georgetown Lions club was held in honor of the blind, the club's regular business included an award presentation to Madeline Collier who was given the Lions International Award on behalf of her late husband, Godfrey. Mr. Collier was honored for his outstanding service to the Lions organization and therefore, the entire community. The award was presented by Lion Fred Zorge. (Herald photo)

Letter to the editor

Gracious thanks for centre success

To the editor of The Herald:
'Tis the season to be thankful...to all those Halton Hills residents who believed the town was ready for a new Library and Cultural Centre...and were prepared to donate their energies and the necessary funds to make it happen. Drop into library and gallery any time or catch a production in the John Elliott Theatre and you'll be left in no doubt as to the value of this facility to the community.

'Tis the season also to be charitable...and to those contributors who may not have received proper acknowledgement, on behalf of the fund-raisers I would ask your indulgence for any errors or omissions. In particular I would like to apologize to Wilma Stull for incorrectly titling her in last week's paper. Miss Stull, a long-time Georgetown resident, purchases a name-space in memory of her sister, Rowena Stull. I regret any embarrassment this error may have caused her.

Finally, 'tis the season to look forward...to even better years in Halton Hills. May our children have the same faith and foresight years from now when they are called upon to contribute to their community's well-being.

Yours sincerely,
John Roe, Publicity
