

Development Atoms were outstanding but they couldn't win

By RANDY GARDINER
Herald Special

An outstanding performance was turned in by the Georgetown Development Minor Atoms, Tuesday Jan. 12, but to no avail as they were defeated by their rivals Oakville, 5-3.

The Minor Atoms, who had many scoring opportunities were down 2-0 at the end of the first period.

The second period saw end to end rushes, with great scoring opportunities by both teams, with Roddy Pasma scoring an excellent goal from Mark Lorito at the 3:50 mark in the period, making this a new hockey game.

With great determination the Minor Atoms went into the third period tying the game on a goal from Mark Lorito assisted by Mark Minnich. With two minutes remaining in the game, Oakville scored again, but the Minor Atoms would not accept defeat, as Andy Pearce pelted a goal from defencemen Mike McElroy and Roddy Pasma.

Shannon Finn who stopped many difficult shots throughout the game, was pulled for an extra attacker, gambling for a tie game only to have Oakville score on an empty net.

BRAMPTON GAME
On Saturday Jan. 9, the Georgetown Minor Atoms defeated Brampton 8-1.

Georgetown jumped into the lead 3-0 in the first period on goals from Mike McElroy, Wes McCauley and Mark Lorito, with Trevor Snow picking up an assist on the third goal.

Scoring in the second period for the Minor Atoms was Trevor Snow assisted by Mark Lorito and Mike McElroy, with Mark Lorito scoring an unassisted goal at the 9:01 mark.

The third period saw Joel Burton, Mark Lorito and Roddy Pasma putting the puck in the net for the Georgetown Development Minor Atoms, assists being earned by Mark Lorito, Mike McElroy and Mike Barnes, while Brampton scored their only goal when Georgetown was shorthanded.

Excellent goaltending by Chris Cambouris was supported by a strong team effort to produce this win.

BLANKSHEETING
Setting the pace for the Georgetown Development Minor Atoms Jan. 7, in a game against Chinguacousy was Roddy Pasma, as he scored the only goal in the first period unassisted.

After a scoreless second period, Trevor Snow popped the puck past the Chinguacousy goalie on a nice pass from Mike McElroy, with Wes McCauley and Joel Burton scoring one each assisted by Roddy Pasma.

In nets for the Minor Atoms was Shannon Finn who earned a well deserved shutout.

Guistini scores twice for Sports Campers

The North Halton Sports Camp Novices hockey team didn't have their best weekend of the season as they ended up tying an exhibition game then lost two regular league games.

Against Brampton in an exhibition game, Georgetown's Brian Brooker gave his team a 1-0 lead, but Brampton tied the game three minutes later at the 6:44 mark of the third period.

Although outshot 15-11, Georgetown played a good game, particularly the outstanding effort in goal by Terry Metler.

Although leading 3-1 after the first period against Flamboro, two goals by Georgetown's Sean Guistini, the North Halton Sports Camp Novices were outlasted 3-2. Guistini's goals were both assisted by Brad Amato.

Against Brampton on Sunday the Sports Camp team were blanked 4-0, three goals coming in the first period. Brampton outshot Georgetown 13-9.

GDHS host midget basketball tourney

There will be a Midget basketball tournament hosted by the Georgetown District High School team on Saturday Jan. 30 in the main gymnasium in which eight tough squads will be vying for the championship crown.

Teams entered are: Georgetown, Erindale, Milton, J.A. Turner (Brampton), Dundas Highlands, Oakville, Trafalgar, Burlington Central and E.C. Drury (Milton).

Spectators are more than welcome to watch some excellent basketball during the day. The tournament starts off at 8:15 as Georgetown begins the competition with the first game. Georgetown also plays again at 2:30 p.m.

The consolation championships will be at 6:15 while the grand championship is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Jills gymnasts compete well in Orangeville

The competitive division of the Halton Hills Jills competed in Orangeville Sat. Jan. 16 and Sunday Jan. 17 in the First Qualifying Meet of the Ontario Central Region.

Competing in the Argo C division were Sandra Weeks, Julie Ross and Lisa Graham.

Competing in the Argo B division were Jodi Earle and Faith Richardson.

Competing in the Tyro B division was Sherilyn Kirkpatrick.

Competing in the Junior B division were Jennifer Pepper and Kim Dryden.

Jennifer Pepper earned second place on the uneven bars and fifth place on the vault, giving her a sixth place finish all-round.

Coaches were very pleased with the performances of all of our Jills.

Central Ontario Region takes in the area from Niagara Falls north to Brampton and west to Owen Sound.

Second and third qualifying meets will be held in March and April and competitors must place in the top six to qualify for the Ontario Meet.

team. He says it's the strongest team in five years.

The first meet at Dundas Highlands Feb. 5 will give some of the OFSAA judges exposure to Georgetown gymnasts so that "they'll know we'll be contenders," Kotani says. Because Dundas is hosting the provincial championships, many of the judges in the Feb. 5 meet will be returning for the OFSAA competition, he says.

Kotani says there has to be a lot of self-motivation in gymnastics. "We don't chart out what they have to do in practice — they know," he says.

Usually the coaches try to encourage the boys to try the equipment they dislike first. This means they'll have enough strength to perform on that routine and they won't have to chance running out of time.

For the girls' team, only Maureen McGowan made it to the OFSAA provincial championships last year, but under coaches Ruth Peden and Shirley White, the team is expected to do well this year.

Fire Safety Pee Wees win 5-1

By L. THIBAUT
Herald Special

As they head into the playoffs, the United Fire Safety Minor Pee Wees took on Erindale in an exhibition game on Sunday and came out ahead 5-1.

The teams traded goals in period one and neither team scored in the second frame. However, Georgetown broke the game open in the third period with an unusual burst of three quick short-handed goals in the third period and another goal a minute later for good luck.

Jeff Brady bagged two and Frazer, Dougal also hustled to earn a goal and an assist.

Other goals were by Trevor Harkley and Davin Ciglen, while Alain Thibault assisted on two. Also earning assists were Jason Arnold and Mark Shepherd.

In the second-last game of the league season, the team met Milton, a strong squad this year which is in undisputed first place.

Our boys had managed a win and a tie against them earlier in the season. The team gave a strong effort in the first period, battling to a scoreless tie. However, they came up flat in the second as Milton pumped in four goals to put the game out of reach, and also added two more in the third frame.

MEET MILTON
The Pee Wees will undoubtedly meet Milton again in the next two weeks and will clearly have to play some outstanding hockey to advance to next level of competition.

In the last game of the regular schedule, against Burlington, the team again played a strong first period with each side exchanging a goal.

However a second-period letdown again cost them the game as the home team allowed three unanswered goals. The boys came storming back to score three goals in the third period, but lapsed defensively to also allow three, and the game ended in a 7-4 loss.

Alain Thibault set the pace with two goals along with John Lorito with a goal and an assist.

David Harris added the fourth marker. Trevor Harkley, Frazer Dougal and Ken Langdon earned assists on the goals.

Our mistake

In a picture on Page 3 of last Wednesday's Herald about the Little NHL, we mistakenly identified Bud James as Bud Haines. We regret the error.

The Georgetown Rep Juvenile hockey team continue to do well as the regular season draws to a close and the playoff season soon begins. Last week they defeated Brampton 7-1, while losing a close 7-6 contest to Burlington.

DRG down Brampton 7-1

Last Thursday the DRG West Insurance Georgetown Juveniles were the victors against their Brampton hockey opponents in a 7-1 contest. However on Sunday the local team were edged by Burlington 7-6.

Against Brampton Jamie South paced his juvenile team with the first two goals of the game, assisted by Tom Cull and Mark Palmer.

Bob Davey then collected his first of two goals for the game on a shot from Jamie South and Shane Lefebvre. Tom Cull then added his first of three goals on an unassisted effort.

Davey added another from Jamie South for Georgetown's fifth goal of the game.

Tom Cull then topped off the game with the remaining two goals with assists coming from Shane Lefebvre, Paul White and Bob Morrow.

BURLINGTON GAME
Against Burlington last Sunday the West Insurance Juveniles weren't quite as lucky as the game before as they were edged by their opponents 7-6.

Bob Morrow collected two goals for the Juveniles while Tom Cull, Kevin Stewart, Shane Lefebvre and Paul White had single goals. Tom Cull had two assists while Paul White and Jamie South had singles.
