

Duplicate bridge

As often happens in any bridge game, a reasonable contract can be made in today's hand by both the North-South pair and the East-West pair. In order for the North-South pair to achieve their contract, they require the machinery of the weak two opener. This understanding allows the South hand to open 2 hearts knowing that his partner (North) understands a point count of 6-12 and at least a 6-card heart suit headed by at least two honours. (This description may be shaded slightly if favourable vulnerability prevails.)

The East-West pair may find their contract when the North-South pair does not open (they may not use the weak two convention). In third seat holding 5 diamonds, East should bid one of that suit. If North passes (the should), East will bid his 4-card heart suit and South will smile slightly and pass quickly. West now should bid his other 4-card suit forcing East to choose. When East chooses diamonds, West will pass and their contract will roll. This was the hand played by the Georgetown Duplicate Bridge Club members last Tuesday. Since most of these avid bridge players use the weak two bid, nine north-south pairs hold some number of a heart partial. Three other times east-west were allowed to find their diamond fit. This was the hand:

THE ANALYSIS
Board No. 2
If N-S are using weak two bids South will open 2 H after East passes. That should end the auction, as West does not have quite enough for a take-out double. At 2 H, South will usually score 8 tricks and could come out with nine. If South passes initially, West should open 1 D in third seat and East's up the line 1 H response will effectively silence South. West may then become slightly ill at the thought of bidding again, but 2 C will elicit 2 D and the bidding will die right there. Careful play (which includes ruffing a club in dummy) will produce 8 tricks, but if North leads a trump and continues trumps when he gets in again to stop the club ruff, declarer will be hard pressed to make his contract. Guessing to lead low to the S Jack and later felling South's queen with the Ace appears to be the only way to recover.

The North-South winners last Tuesday at the Georgetown Bridge Club were Arthur Kwel and Peter Gostovic. Second spot went to East and Hexens Heffren with Archie Dash and Steve Hughes holding third. Helen Fleming and Phyllis Campbell were fourth.

The East-West winners were Peter Kastro and John Flanagan. Second place was won by Brian Ayer and Roy Turton with Hans and Betty Buscher taking third. Cal Munro and Don Corker held fourth spot.

In response to the friendly atmosphere and the welcome extended by this article, the new members that have joined in the past few months are proving that this game is fun. Take the plunge. The management will ensure a pleasant time and guarantee a partner. Come and play bridge.

Club plans T-shirt dance

By LORNA AND STEVE THOMPSON
Fourteen Fireflies members started off another activity filled year by playing a rousing game of Euchre beside a roaring fire along with the hospitality of Even and Herb Fredrickson Jan. 23. The winners of the evening of fun were: Ladies High - Marg Hewitt; Mens High - Jim Sladdon; Ladies Low - Ellen Rasmussen and Mens Low - Herb Fredrickson. A pot luck lunch was a highlight to the evening.

Feb. 7 was a very cold, blustery day but that did not hinder 15 adults and ten Firefly children from attending the family tobogganing afternoon at Cedarvale Park. The big hill once again proved to be a challenge for young and old alike who had fun and worked up appetites for the hot chocolate and hot dogs provided by the social committee. The Georgetown Fireflies, along with the Brampton Ramblers, manned the C.F.C.F. booth at the International Trailer and Motor Home show Feb. 24 to 28. It was a pleasure to be able to help out in this way. It is hoped from the good response that was shown to our display that the interested campers will contact the appropriate numbers given to them and our C.F.C.F. numbers will expand.

Thanks to our Teen Queen, Tanya Ellis and her princesses, Vicky Hughes and Wendy Bilyard for attending on various days and also to the Chairman and Vice Chairman of the National, Sven and Rita Peterson and Bob Wilkinson for lending a helping hand. From all indications everyone is eagerly awaiting the C.F.C.F. Inc. Rally '82 in Perugia.

The Fireflies held a Dance Lesson night Feb. 27 in the St. Alban's Hall in Glen Williams for all those who have trouble getting their feet to do what they would like them to. Carol Williams instructed the dancers on the Cake Walk, the Husse, Sloss, Alley Cat and the Teton Mountain Dance. It was good to have our Texas members, Marion and Al Rice present to join in on the festivities. Lunch was turkey on a bun and was enjoyed by all.

The next big event for the Fireflies is the T-Shirt dance to be held April 17 at the Sacre Coeur Hall. Tickets are now available from Sally and Dave Caldwell.

The next general meeting will be held at the Canada Trust building in Georgetown March 16 at 8 p.m. Anyone interested in camping from the Acton, Georgetown area are welcome to attend our meeting or if you should require any information, please contact our presidents, Joan and Murray Harrison of Acton, at 833-1177.
