Statistics show 'free' France geared to loose lifestyles

Thank you to those who pass on church news. Some don't and I never hear their programs until too late. Please bring them to my attention and I will be sure to include all Christian-related programs in this column.

March 17 (tonight) at Holy Cross in Georgetown: Focus on the Family film series with Dr. James Dobson. This week, the fifth in the series (two more to go) "Preparing for Adolescence".

This is an important film in the series, and should be excellent for your teenager or pre-teen. Sub-titled "Peer Pressure and Sexuality", it's relevant to today's youth. This is an age when young people fear they are not normal or cannot compete with their peer group and need the help of parents, friends and society.

The time of the Focus program is 8 p.m. and, of course, all persons are welcome to attend.

considered a "free" country in regard to its thinking. The Bastille was the result of free thinkers wanting to take over. The artists want to do their own thing and the life style of many of the people is very "loose". The influx of refugees from around the world has added to this atmosphere and encouraged devil worship.

Pray for France and those who minister there. The needs are great and the workers few; however, our God is greater than all.

religious organization that you wish to know about, please write, and I will try to get as much information as I can on it for you. There are many organizations that distort and destroy the Holiness of God and His Son Jesus Christ.

Many of these people feel that the Holy Spirit is not a part of the Godhead but only an ethereal "thing".

Did you know that the Mormon Church believes that their Joseph Smith assisted in the foundation of the world?

Next Sunday is the Canadian Cancer Society day when daffodils are made available through some of our churches. Please support this worthwhile endeavor and order daffodils now for next Sunday. A practical showing of your Christian love for others.

Band concerts galore for AHS

By DIANE CREWE-READ
AHS correspondent

For the past week, Acton High School has been hosting a band exchange.

A group of young men from a private school up north has been attending Acton High and doing various activities.

These guys are slaying with band members and their families in Acton. It is quite an honor for both the visitors and all of Acton.

These people have been kept rather busy during their stay doing various activities involving Acton High.

One day last week these boys joined the AHS band and put on an evening concert. Many students came with and without their families. The night was a great success.

The day after the concert, the band from up north put on a short assembly for those students of Acton who were unable to attend the concert.

They played a number of good selections including a tribute to John Lennon and the Beatles. A few of their pieces were Yesterday, Give Peace a Chance, Hard Day's Night and Imagine. Both of these concerts were big hits.

After a rather hectic week of doing many fascinating events, Acton High students held their annual St. Patrick's Day dance featuring the sound system of Turntable. The young men from the band exchange were more than welcome to attend the dance.

The dance was fun for everyone. Acton High School is very proud to be hosting such a talented group of people.

Friday March 12th, Acton High School held its annual "Casino Night".

The night was a big success and very exciting for both the teachers and students who attend Acton High. You didn't even have to be a gambler to enjoy Casino Night.

Each person who attended the event had to pay $3 for admission and were given $2,000 in "funny money" as they began the evening.

There were many different games for everyone to test their luck, including poker, blackjack and crown and anchor.

Each person would gamble as much as he or she wanted, hoping not to lose all their money, since if you lost all of your $2,000, there was no chance of getting any more.

The object of Casino Night was not only to try to end up with the most money but also to have a great time which I'm sure everyone did.

There were prizes awarded to those people who won the most money in each separate game as well as prizes to the over all winners who ended up with the most money over the night.

As you can see, Acton High is really a school that likes to have fun. Friday night brought a lot of excitement to the school.

Congratulations to all the winners and better luck next time to all those who didn't do so well.
