

Doreen heads rug hookers

At the annual meeting of the Georgetown Rug Hooking Guild April 12, a custom-made "hooker's" smock was presented to outgoing president Jean Ruddell and a new slate of officers was elected. The officers for 1982-1983 will be: President Doreen Long; Vice-President Diane Crawford; past-President Jean Ruddell; secretary and publicist Marg Willis; treasurer Alva Allen; programme Pat Robertson; social convener Sheila Goodlet; telephone convenor Diane Swackhammer; workshop convener Edna Joyce; sunshine Carol Cameron; library Pat Costley; and historian Judy Payne.

The members are readying their hooking projects - rugs, pictorials, hangings, plaques and pillows - to be shown at the annual show of the Ontario Rug Hooking Guild to be held at the Skyline Hotel April 24 and 25. This exhibition draws several thousand visitors from all over Canada and the United States, and will have over a thousand hooked items on display to the public April 25.

The Canada Trust logo, which was hooked by four of the members, is hanging at the bank, and the hooked map of Canada is soon to be displayed at the Cultural Centre in Georgetown.

ANOTHER CHORAL SOCIETY SUCCESS

Drawn by the groups' previous successes, Halton Hills residents arrived in droves Friday, Saturday and Sunday night for performances of the Georgetown Choral Society's (GCS) "Encore: The Broadway Beat". And they weren't disappointed this time around, either. The performances were immensely entertaining as the GCS ran through hits from "Hello Dolly", "Fiddler on the Roof", "The King and I" and a number of other popular Broadway productions. A great deal of attention was spent on costuming and there were several outstanding solo performances by Choral Society members. Among the performers in the "The King and I" were (left to right) Anne Burke, Dianne Irwin, Heather Dickson, Tye Tuit and Dave Walker.

HALTON HILLS ARTS COUNCIL

To all groups that have received the Halton Hills Arts Council questionnaire: the deadline for returning the completed form has been extended to April 30. Hopefully, the questionnaire has been distributed to all groups who make use of the John Elliott Theatre in the Cultural Centre, whether they are members of the Arts Council or not.

If any group has been inadvertently omitted, please contact Elizabeth Shore at 877-8160 or Ian Oldaker at 877-1581. It is important that we receive the opinions of all who will be making use of the theatre or who already have used it. The purpose of the questionnaire is to determine if the theatre is meeting the needs of its users in regards to facilities, availability and costs.

Any group that has received the questionnaire and does not return it will be assumed to be totally content with the status quo. However, even if this is the case, we would still like to hear from you. So please return the completed form as soon as possible to any member of the Arts Council executive.

Arts and Crafts fall birthday

Herald Special
The regular meeting of Georgetown Arts and Crafts was held at the home of the president, Pat Beer.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read, followed by the report given by treasurer Dorothy Brandford. Evelyn Charles, correspondence secretary gave her report, including a letter from the Ontario Craft Council. They, along with other craft publications, are interested in the fact that this is our 40th year.

Sigilinda Knoepel, crafts convener, reported the Christmas craft group are very busy and the course on parchment lamp shades would begin April 9 at the home of Jennifer Burnett, teacher. A one day work shop on dried flowers will be held later, after we've had an opportunity to pick and press a few spring flowers and seeds. Hopefully a stitchery course will come later.

Time was spent discussing ideas for our 40th birthday to be marked at our annual sale at the Halton Hills Golf Club Oct. 16. Convenors for the sale were also named and guest artists were discussed too.

A display for Georgetown Summerfest was arranged and the date set for our summer luncheon at Pat Beer's home. A very nice display of members' work was on display as requested by our guest speaker, Wendy Lindsay, an editor and writer for the Craft magazine, Hands. Wendy described how a magazine of this nature is put together. It was very interesting. Writing, assembling, distributing and selling this is a great deal of work. We were happy to welcome two new members to our group.

Nellie Beatty and her committee once again served a delicious luncheon.
