the particular category. Wade Vickery was the Most Gentlemanly Player award which was presented by Marlene Graham. Called the Lady Gerth trophy after the Sabres first secretary, the award is for good sportsmanship.

Vickery also collected hardware for his attitude, sportsmanship and ability by winning the Fisher Memorial. The award was presented by Sonny Townsley who is a lifetime member of the Acton Sabres.

SUPER ATHLETE
Wade Vickery is described by his coach Jules Russiani as having a tremendous attitude. As well as being a super athlete, Wade helped in the Sabre off-ice training program. Because of his age, Vickery will be missed in a Sabre uniform next year, the coach says.

Mike Monahan won two of the most prestigious awards when he collected the William Campbell trophy for the most points collected in a season plus the MVP award. The Campbell trophy was presented by Carol Campbell while coach Russiani handed out the Most Valuable Player award.

Mike is credited by the coach as taking up the goal-scoring slack when Dave McGiloway left. "He tried hard to take over the team leadership and he played with enthusiasm and fortitude," Russiani says.

Roy Spear was the recipient of the Most Improved Player award, presented to him by Ray Graham. The coach used Roy on both wings although he is primarily a defenceman.

He learned how to use his size and improved greatly on his skating over the season. Roy for a first year player progressed a tremendous amount and he has a promising hockey future, the coach says.

WITH HEART
The Basil "Fuzzy" Mellon trophy for the best prospect to come out of Acton minor hockey was Denis Kirton. Presenting the trophy was Bruce Cargill. Denis plays with heart, desire and emotion, the coach says, and has a dogged determination.

Denis Charbonneau picked up the best defenceman award, called the President's Trophy. Sabre president Frank Allsop made the presentation. The coach says it was no doubt that Denis was the best defenceman on the team.

He played with desire, guts and he played to win. Denis is an overage player and thus his experience and leadership will be missed by the team.

The McPhail-Marshall award, named after Acton's first president and vice-president was won by R.J. Farnsworth. Kerwin McPhail made the presentation. R.J. worked on his skills and by the end of the year he was playing with the experience of a four year veteran of the league, coach Russiani says.

TEAM MAN
The best team player was Mark Duval. He received the James Gordon trophy from Harold Townsley. In his second year with the Sabres, Mark became a team leader in a gradual process.

He had a great desire to win and was a great help to the younger boys. Mark wants a hockey scholarship and he has a tremendous future in hockey, the coach says.
