

Student heads for Ottawa

This Millennar will represent the Rotary Club of Georgetown at the 1982 "Adventure in Citizenship" to be held in Ottawa May 16 to 20. It was announced last week by club president Bob Foskett.

This, 16, who lives with his mother on Main Street South, is a Grade 11 student at Georgetown District High School.

In the 31 years since the project was conceived by the Rotary Club of Ottawa, more than 7,500 young Canadians have participated in the Adventure. Students, chosen for outstanding achievements in their own communities, are brought together each year in the nation's capital to see the centre of government, the national parliament, the national centres for the arts and sciences, and to meet leaders of government, the professions, business and education.

They visit "the Hill" to see Parliament in action and such places as Rideau Hall (Government House), the National Arts Centre, National Gallery, national museums, Supreme Court and the RCMP Training Centre. They take part in group discussions at a university, covering such subjects as citizenship, parliamentary procedure, democratic government and issues of the day. They hear addresses by the Prime Minister, the Leader of the Opposition and other prominent Canadians at luncheons and dinners. On the final day of the Adventure, each student is presented with a formal Certificate of Canadian Citizenship.

"During more than a quarter of a century," said Mr. Foskett, "the project, supported by the Rotary Clubs of Canada, has made a very important contribution to the principles of Canadian unity and true citizenship."

Former resident gets top award

A prestigious award will be presented to Richard Jeffrey, a former resident of Georgetown and Acton, in Chicago June 15.

As managing editor of The Esso News, the Esso company publication, he will receive the Gold Quill award presented annually by the International Association of Business Communications. The award is given to only one person from any country each year.

Mr. Jeffrey was formerly editor of the Sherwood Park News in Alberta and won two top newspaper association awards for photography.

He lives now in Calgary. Richard attended the M.Z. Bennett school in Acton and then Georgetown high school. His parents, Marion and Bill Jeffrey, live in Oakville now. His grandmother, Mrs. William Jeffrey, still lives in Georgetown.

GDHS staffing changes made

Six staff changes at Georgetown District High School were recently approved by Halton board of education.

Tom Adams has been appointed associate head of academic programs effective Sept. 1. Carl Colbran has been appointed head of student services and special education, also effective Sept. 1. The head of social science, Stan Hall, has been reappointed to that position.

New associate head of academic programs at the high school is Morley Leeking. Betty Tarnas is the new associate head of applied programs, and John Todd, head of special programs and student activities, has been appointed associate head of special programs at the school.
