Measles outbreak warning

An outbreak of measles at a Burlington public health Dr. Peter Cole to urge parents to have their children properly immunized through their family physician or at one of the monthly clinics provided by Halton region (phone 878-8113, extension 379). While compulsory immunization upon school entry is expected in the near future, protection against measles and similar childhood diseases is voluntary, but Dr. Cole points out that measles is highly infectious and can cause death if there are complications. One such death - blamed on Red Measles - occurred in Halton in 1980.

Club marks Respect for Law Week

June 1 to 7 has been officially proclaimed Respect for Law Week in Halton Hills by town council. Sponsored by the Optimist Club of Georgetown, the special annual observance gives citizens a chance to consider several important goals set by the organizing club:

- to combat public apathy and indifference toward crime and criminals and to rekindle proper respect for and responsibility under the law;
- to encourage, promote and recognize the participation of the public in the dispensation of justice;
- to better acquaint the public with the duties, responsibilities and needs of law enforcement officers and to recognize and honor unusual, outstanding services rendered by citizens, including those officers;
- Optimist President Bruce Totten told The Herald that this year's program will attempt to make citizens aware of their own responsibility and solicit their involvement in combatting crime.
