Running the business

Twenty-four Medtronic of Canada employees joined executives Ken James, Vern Dale-Johnson, Graham Smith and Don Hurley to compete in the Toronto Western Hospital ten-kilometre run Sunday. Medtronic, a Streetsville company which employs a number of Georgetown residents, captured the race's Corporation Trophy for the best average runners in the race. Over 800 runners competed to raise close to $40,000 for a heart-lung machine used in open heart surgery. Medtronic is a major producer of pacemakers for heart patients.
