

Six Halton Hills residents who have had a long and noble association with the town's Scouting programs were honored last week at the North Halton Scouting

Among the many who were awarded for their efforts in Scouting at the North Halton District annual awards night last Wednesday in the St. George's Church hall were Ted Moyle (left) and Ken McKee. Residents of Acton, the two were recognized for having been recently awarded the coveted Chief Scout award.

AWARDS PROVE SCOUTING SPIRIT STRONG IN HALTON HILLS

Appreciation awards—presented to people who have made a major contribution over the last year to the community's Scouting program—were presented by Jean Belshaw (centre) to Gord MacLeish (left) and John McMurray. A similar award was presented to A.E. LePage representative Fina Poustrup (not shown).

Saying thanks
for another successful year

HALTON HILLS ARTS COUNCIL

'Old Tyme' invitation

Tickets: going, going, almost gone. Tickets for the Summerfest Old Tyme Music Hall; at last report only 12 remain unsold. Better hurry. The number to call is 877-4607. Last year's was a roaring success and many talented people are working hard to top that achievement. If you like great entertainment along with a tasty meal, you belong at the Old Tyme Music Hall, June 19 at 7 p.m. in Saere Coeur Hall.

More about tickets: this time Trilight Tickets. These too are nearly gone. There will be no sale of rush seats at the door this year. If you wish to attend you must have your tickets in advance for all three concerts. The first concert is Sept. 29 and features Felix Posaak, folk-singer and musician. This talented man is equally at home playing the banjo, dulcimer, balalaika, guitar and many others. He will be followed Jan. 26 by the Feuersteins, Robert and Sara, who will present a program of classical piano and guitar. The series winds up April 13 with the appearance of York Winds, the internationally acclaimed woodwind quintet.

With a quality line-up like that it is no wonder that ticket sales have been brisk. The numbers to call for tickets are 877-7035, 853-2389 or 877-8160. If any remain unsold, they will be available at the Arts Council Display at Summerfest.

The Ontario Arts Council has released the names of the individuals and organizations throughout the province, who have received grants. Congratulations go out to Jane Dams of Terra Cotta, who received a grant under the Creative Artists in Schools section and Kathy Stinson of Georgetown, who received a Writer's Award.
