Sport's fans threw away their bags and left the park in tears.

Inspired by the North Halton victory, Foberts fought off four interceptions by the Dairy Queen defense to trip them up 27-23 in an excellent game.

Deadlocked 14-14 at half time on DQ majors by Howie Hulme and Paul Egerton and Fobert TDs by Bruce Urch and Rick Donaldson, the DQ defence got the only points in the third quarter on a safety touch. They dominated the entire game as Herb Hulme picked off his second interception of the game and Dale Mieczanec added another.

Brian Tilson and Stu Lunn traded scores early in the fourth but Tilson poked in his second with three minutes to go to end the Fobert slide.

Norval were no doubt a little unnerved playing a team dressed in grass skirts and that accounts for a shaky first half, but once they got over the shock they made it interesting for their androgynous opposition and were only shaded 36-21.

The Greeks showed lots of leg in the first half, prancing away with majors by Pat Jacobs, James Allen, and Paul Wilson. Wilson and Wayne Stausis added two-point conversions.

Brian Pemberton scored the first Norval TD and added another in the fourth sandwiching one by Glen Shoebridge. Allan and Wilson each copped another Greek score in the final minutes to outdistance the Norvalites and keep the streets safe.

Players of the Week: Paul Wilson Gr., Brian Pemberton, Nor., Herb Hulme DQ, Brian Tilson, Fob., Kevin Harrison, RP, Andy Tyrell NHS, Bob Lockwood, M and M, Steve Frost SS.

Biathlon racers last year starting off on their 10 kilometre trek: Acton Y's bicycle and running race promises to be lots of fun for participants who require an equally proficient partner to do well.

Biathlon returns to Acton

Following up the successful Halton Hills Mayor's Race, the Acton Y club have offered the double challenge of a bicycle and road race this Sunday July 4.

The Acton Y sponsored the first Biathlon last summer in which teams of two alternated on bicycle and on foot through a 10 kilometre course. Each team member changes positions every 2.5 kilometres, the cyclist leaving his or her bike for the runner, whilst he continues the race on foot until the next checkpoint.

The hardest part of the course, according to Ed Leatherland, a race organizer and participant from last year, is the first section which has a few hills. The course follows a winding pattern around the outer perimeters of Acton.

The Biathlon starts and finishes at Acton's arena, beginning at 9 a.m. Entrants can register at Acton and Georgetown's Recreation Department offices for a $2 fee. Sign-ups will be allowed before the race, but please leave yourself plenty of time before the race to register.

There will be a Father-Son category, mixed team category and four age categories: 12-16 years, 17-24 years, 25-34 years and 34 years and over.

A winning team is determined when both partners have crossed the finish line. Ron Johns, defending champion with Scott Lee from last year in the overall time finish will be back this year, says Leatherland.

Cricket B's still unbeaten

By Dr. SOL M. TANGOO

Herald Special

Georgetown B cricket team continued their unbeaten record in the B division of the Hamilton and District Cricket League by defeating Welland-Niagara cricket team by 37 runs in a game played Saturday, June 26, at the Stewarttown School playing field.

Welland-Niagara won the toss and sent in the local team to take first strike at the wicket. This move appeared to have paid off as both the Georgetown opening batsmen, Brian Campbell and Allan Dean were out for a paltry 13 runs, but Patrick Lall and Ashok Kumar came together and saved the day.

Kumar who is regaining that form which has made him one of the top players in the league made some sparkling strokes all around the wickets, hitting 5 fours and a three in his score of 57 runs.

He seems to have a special liking for Welland-Niagara's bowling and has made big scores in all previous encounters with this team.

In 1980 he scored a century against them and this was followed by another 45 runs last year.

Lall, who partnered Kumar also had a useful knock and was caught out for 26 runs when attempting a big hit off the bowling of M. Hinds.

Both batsmen took the total score from 13 to 82 before Lall lost his wicket.

Kumar was then joined by Roy Bridgell and the score kept moving merrily along until Kumar tried to hit a full toss to the boundary and was caught out for 57 runs when the total was 115 runs for four wickets. Bridgell continued to live dangerously and lifted the ball to all parts of the field. He was eventually out when the total score was 134 runs to which he had contributed a personal best of 31 runs.

The lower order batsmen attempted to force the scoring rate but lost their wickets in so doing and added only 7 more runs to the Georgetown total of 141 runs.

The most successful bowlers for the visitors were K. Brown who bowled 3 wickets for 22 runs and V. Shivaprasad who captured 2 for 23.

When the Welland-Niagara team went in to bat the first four batsmen were out for 29 runs and Georgetown appeared to be well-poised for an easy victory but R. Kanjipoyar and V. Shivaprasad came together to prevent a total collapse and to delay the victory celebrations.

Both batsmen played aggressively and scored freely with some tremendous hits to all parts of the field.

Shivaprasad, after scoring 24 runs was brilliantly caught by D. Mungroo at square leg while attempting the hook stroke. Kanjipoyar continued to defy the bowlers and was the last batsman to get out when he was clean bowled by Kumar for 43 runs and his team's total was 104 runs, still 37 runs short of the Georgetown total.

N. Balkisson and A. Kumar, each bowled 3 wickets for 29 runs while the captain of the B team, N. Samaroo had one for 28. Georgetown B team has now amassed 49 points from three games and is in first place in the H. Smith section of the B division of the Hamilton and District League.

Even though donkey baseball has been compared to playing the piano with down-filled mittens, local politicians, area NHL referees and Georgetown Raider hockey players have accepted the challenge of Donkey Baseball by the Limehouse Oldtimers.

The July 4 event at Limehouse Park is a fund-raising effort by Limehouse Minor Sports. They were contacted by Jim Smith Enterprises recently who offered his donkeys for a fun game.

A team comprising of Mayor Pomeroy, Coun. Russ Miller, John McCauley, Ron Finn and a number of Raider hockey players are expected to attend as the challengers.

Soccer
returns

Georgetown will again be one of the locations visited by Soccer International, in their goals to provide soccer instruction, clinics and workshops for players.

Sessions are designed for boys and girls of all levels of ability from 6-14 years of age. The location is Georgetown District High School from July 12-16 and the cost is $29.

Session I hours are 9 a.m. to 12 noon for players 6 to 8 years while Session II is from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. for players 9 to 14.

The soccer school's objectives are to emphasize development of skills, fitness, game knowledge, sportsmanship and healthy competition.

Devils need a win

Coach Brian James doesn't consider it a priority in remembering the score of a game which ended 16-4 against Port Credit last Tuesday as the Junior girls Red Devils were severely trounced by their opponents.

"After they (Port Credit) scored nine runs in the fourth inning I kinda lost count," the 21-and-under ladies fastball team co-coach said.

The Red Devils were leading 2-0 after the first inning and shut out Port Credit for three innings, he said.

The losing pitcher was Janice Simmons. The best hitter for the Georgetown team was Sylvannia LaRose from Rockwood, James said.

Marion Gies looked sharp in the outfield, making a couple of key catches, the co-coach said.

The team needs a win to bolster confidence, but to do that, they have to play nine strong innings of baseball, James said.

"We have at least one bad inning every game we've played," he said.

Coach John Royce and Brian James are hoping to get the girls fine-tuned for the Ontario Playoffs which begin in two weeks. Jackie Dennis, the third pitcher for the team is expected to be able to re-join the team then after suffering from an injury.

Bass season

Today is the last day of June. This month has been one of loss for me, and also of gain. I have lost a long time fishing friend and have made a new friend. Does everything in life balance itself out eventually? Not without great effort, but it can and will. At last the bass season is open, and I can pursue my great love of this fish.

Opening day I spent at Mounsbury wildlife centre fishing for the bass here. The Halton Region Conservation Authority, as mentioned here recently, has a bass fishing contest on. The last two days are July 3rd and 4th from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Prizes are for best "mess of fish", largest caught by oldest angler, largest fish caught, and largest fish by angler under 12 years. If the size of last weekend's fish is any pattern, then next weekend's should be better and may see the winner taken then. Personally, I caught and released ten bass, all small, although I lost a large one at the net (of course). Get to Mounsbury via Campbellville below Hwy 401 and Guelph Line.

BASS GOOD

Bass fishing over the Province was generally good, for those who kept in mind the cooler weather of late and the late (or non-existent) spawning. Much high water in south central Ontario has made a great difference to where the bass are situated, and where a fisherman was able to fish for them.

Acton's Fairy Lake is about dead, and needs a boost as well as control of the duck and goose population. Possibly a little action by the area's fishermen may get some action, let's hope so and soon.

One of my greatest joys (as far as fishing goes) is using a Fly Rod for bass and pike. I have one fly rod that is reserved for that purpose alone, and is balanced for a heavier line and leader and the ability to throw a heavy bug or streamer a good distance.

One of fresh water's ultimate thrills, the use of a fly rod for these game fish could ruin you to other types of fishing, if you are not strong enough to resist the temptation.

A bass bug taper line has a shorter and heavier middle section designed to cast large wind resistant bass bugs a maximum distance with a minimum of false casting.

Some flyrodders use others but that is my choice. Using the criteria of short leaders for sinking lines and longer ones for a floating fly line, a fisherman should then consider the ultimate tip strength of the tapered leader.

Choose your own reel, and a rod that will take a seven or eight weight fly line. More help in this is available at any reasonable time by writing me and requesting such help. Love to do it.

RADIO RESEARCH

The June-July issue, book 43, of the IN-FISH-ERMAN is of great help to the bass fisherman. A special section on the radio research and tracking of bass has brought to light many new facts and exploded many myths. Get it.

The winner of the TRIENE fishing line "Caption Contest" is Heather Gage of Greystone Cres. Heather wins a Super Spool (several hundred yards) of Triene fishing line.

Her caption "trolling speeds right" suited the cartoon, although there was one other that came very close.

Miss Gage's caption will be forwarded to Triene headquarters from where she will receive her prize. The caption will also be entered in the national contest for prizes worth hundreds of dollars. Good luck Heather.

Goliger Giants

Goligers Travel Giants started up where they left off last week. With their strong pitching and consistency at the plate they managed to defeat the Continental Service Centre Padres. David Bewley pitched for the Padres and Steve Scarlett provided the power at the plate hitting a home run. All their efforts were in vain as the Giants secured their second win of the season. The final score Giants 17 - Padres 7.
