

PRECOCIOUS!

Now that's some garden. Shelley Bray, 9, spent an afternoon last week creating a colorful garden of wool, wood, pipe cleaner sticks, pipe cleaners, string and cotton scraps. Topped with a plastic daisy, the garden was going to go into Shelley's room. The art making set-up was originally scheduled to take place during Pioneer Days, but because of the rain was rescheduled.

Washing up is half the fun when you've spent the afternoon making art. Naomi Assenhelm, 3, and Damian Hagge, 5, shared the wash bucket and towel to get the paste off their fingers. They were among 80 youngsters who arranged themselves around three long tables to transform scraps into art. Eight mothers put on the afternoon of children's activities originally planned for Pioneer Days.

HALTON HILLS ARTS COUNCIL

Last chance

If there is anyone out there who hopes to attend just one or two of the Trillight concerts on a rush seat basis, forget it. There will be no sale of rush seats and no sale of tickets to individual concerts. This is a subscription series only. There are still a few tickets left for the series, but they won't last long. The numbers to call for tickets are 877-7035, 877-8180, 853-2389.

What? You've forgotten what performers are appearing this year. Let me just refresh your memory. The first concert Sept. 29 will feature a one-man variety show starring Felix Possak, a master of the guitar, dulcimer, balalaika, banjo, etc. The man is amazing. His program is truly eclectic, ranging from traditional folk songs of Canada, the U.S., Europe and the British Isles to ragtime and Dixieland.

Jan. 26 will bring us the talents of Robert and Sarah Feuerstein in a program combining the beauty of classical guitar and piano. Selections will include timeless music from the Baroque era, familiar Impressionistic works of Satie and Debussy, fascinating transcriptions of popular hits and original compositions.

The final concert will take place April 13 with the appearance of York Winds, the Canadian woodwind quintet with the international reputation for excellence.

All three concerts can be yours for the low price of $20 for adults, seniors and students $17. What a fantastic musical bargain.

COLONEL SANDERS HAS NEVER RAISED PRICES 7%.

FRANK MILLER JUST DID.

On June 14th Ontario Treasurer Frank Miller applied a new 7% tax to all foods sold at eating establishments including take-out foods.

This means students, children, people on fixed incomes, and anyone else who buys an inexpensive meal at our stores will have to pay 7% more than they ever have before. Up to the present, meals under $6.00 have been tax-free.

Some people seem to think a 7% tax is not very significant. The fact is, Colonel Sanders has never had a price increase like this at one time.

The frightening part of this unfair tax is the chain reaction it will have. Not only will people who can ill-afford it have a chunk taken out of their food budget, but many small catering services, cafeterias, and private fast-food operations will inevitably suffer loss of sales. Mr. Miller's budget was meant to highlight job creation. Instead, it is bound to cause job losses and business failures throughout the food service industry.

If that bothers you as much as it bothers us, join us in our campaign to fight this insane tax. Simply fill out the coupon below and send it to the Ontario Restaurant and Foodservices Association.

Tell Frank Miller you'd rather have your chicken before he takes a bite.

FIGHT THE BITE!

YES! I would like to stop this unfair tax. I understand that ORFA is simply requesting that a tax exemption be maintained for meals under $4.00, and that all meals prepared for consumption on the premises (take out or delivery) continue to be exempt. I agree
