Jr.B team profiles

Burlington

The Burlington Cougars will be going through somewhat of a rebuilding year, but general manager Mike McCauley is confident the holes will be well-filled with competent juveniles and midgets. After an undefeated exhibition season against Niagara Falls and Grimsby, McCauley says the team will have a strong offence and defence. Twelve new faces will join the line-up, as the newcomers try and take up the slack left when Mark Jooris and Marty Prowse became average juniors. McCauley says the team is looking to strengthen their game down the middle, that is, their centreman and goaltending.

Rob Bryson is back with the club as number one netminder. He averaged 3.75 after 21 games with the Cougars last year. From the Burlington juveniles Rob Hallis should balance the goaltending position.

McCauley is expecting leadership from veterans Peter Flood and Jerry Foster, both of them centre men. Urban Jacobsson on right wing and defence is also a key man in the Cougar game plan.

The club is expecting good performances from all their rookies but particularly the "kid line" from juvenile hockey. Marc West, Andy Pefhoney and Rob Brenner will form an entire line this season. Thus far they have shown quite a bit of hustle.

"You won't see our true team until Christmas," McCauley says, but he predicts the club will finish near the top of the league. It will take a while for the rookies to settle in, he says.

strength from last year, which means Thornhill should have a bigger and better skating team.

General manager Yetman says the team had to rebuild from last year with only six players returning. Recruits haven't flooded in from the now defunct Richmond Hill team but the club did pick up players from neighboring Markham and their Tier 2 club there.

The Thunderbirds have a big strong defence and will be strong up the centre, Yetman feels.

In two games thus far the Thornhill team were beaten 7-5 by Barrie and 8-7 by Burlington.

Rick Reusse is back between the pipes for Thornhill. Steve Kinnari will be a team leader for the Thunderbirds, but Yetman isn't counting on individuals to lead the team.

Jeff Evans from Bradford Junior Cs is going to prove to be a fruitful acquisition, he says.

The Thunderbirds came back for three quick goals against Burlington in the latter stages which shows the team has a lot of heart, Yetman says.

The team has a new coach in Bud Bowers who has been around the Junior B league and most recently coached the Pickering Panthers.

Thornhill

Cheys Yetman of the Thornhill Thunderbirds Junior B franchise says his team has gained some Richmond Hill players have looked elsewhere for a team to play on but "we are satisfied with the kids from the area," Yetman says.
