Acton man gets three months for cemetery damage

Acton's James Allen, 17, pleaded guilty to Milton provincial court Monday and was sentenced to three months in jail for knocking down gravestones at Acton's Fairview Cemetery. The man was also given six months for a break and enter and three months for theft over $200. Following his one year jail sentence, the judge placed Mr. Allen on two years' probation.

Royal purple draw

The Halton Hills Order of the Royal Purple held their third annual bazaar the weekend before last—another successful sale of baked goods and crafts. Draw winners from the event are Acton's Anne Smith, Brian Hennessey, Brampton; Christina Hayse, Brampton; Carolyn Jardine, Brampton and Georgetown resident G. Fraser. The main draw was for a grocery hamper.

CWL raffle winners

The Catholic Women's League Christmas bazaar raffle results are out. Winners of the Nov. 7 raffle are: Pat Brooker of Georgetown's Noble Court, who won a basket of fruit donated by Vitos Fruit Market; Mary Rosati of RR1 Georgetown, who won a Raggedy Ann; and Mrs. P. Blake of Georgetown's Guelph Street, who also won a Raggedy Ann.

WLU grad

Matt Spehar of Acton received his diploma in business administration from Wilfrid Laurier University in Waterloo during graduation exercises Nov. 7 at the Kitchener Auditorium. Newly-installed university president John Weir told 350 graduates and undergraduates that the 1982 class is the best prepared to meet the real world.

Top plowman

Keith Leslie of RR4 Georgetown placed first overall among 22 competitors in the 35 years and over category at the recent International Plowing Match held in Lucan, Ontario, according to the latest issue of Halton Farm News. Eventually declared Grand Champion in two furrow classes, Mr. Leslie led a five-man contingent from Halton to the match, including Paul Wilkinson of Georgetown, David Wilson of Norval and Wayne Cunningham of Limehouse.
