

Annual hike attracts 150 Cubs

By JEAN LAYMAN
Herald Special
The fourth annual North Halton District Hike for Cubs, parents and Leaders was held Saturday, starting at the abandoned railway track on the Sideroad

27 just above Terra Cotta. Close to one hundred and fifty enjoyed the trek on the original Credit Valley Footpath, now taken over by the Bruce Trail Association. The hikers went along the tracks to the Tenth Line, south to Glen Williams and followed the river as far as the Paper Mill Bridge on River Road. Each group had a list of clues and trail markers had been placed all along the trail. Close to ninety clues kept the hikers' imagination busy the entire day. Huge willow trees, oak and beech trees caught the eyes of the little guys. To envisage an ostrich seat, a hooked dinosaur or a serpent's head made this hike very interesting. Land, water and snow were key reminders for Out-in-Scouting along the trail.

Right on schedule, the hikers took time out, at the Glen Williams ball park and a free lunch was provided under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Mei McCullam. The hikers continued along the river after lunch break finishing at the bridge on River Road. Fruit and cookies were served to every one at the end of this hike. Packs taking part were 1st Acton "A" and "B"

Packs, 2nd Acton Trinity, 1st, 2nd, 4th, 5th Georgetown, 1st Glen Williams, 1st Limehouse and 1st Ballinacree. BRISK HIKE All arrangements for this worthwhile hike was made by Elaine Hannah and Evelyn Owen. Mrs.

Owen started each pack off giving instructions with Mrs. Hannah taking the lead on the hike. The weather was brisk making it a perfect day for a hike to be long remembered. This hike was part of the 75th Anniversary of Scouting's celebration.

Pins presented at Guide dinner

Herald Special
Halton Division of the Girl Guides of Canada recently held a Christmas pot luck dinner, awards presentation and crafts night. Over 75 Guide Leaders, Commissioners and other Division members from Georgetown, Acton and Milton attended at Knox Presbyterian Church.

During the evening, Halton Division Commissioner Barbara Phipps presented recognition pins for service in Guiding to the following women:

The Division Secretary at Pin went to Mabel Mellish of Georgetown and Donna Helicar of Milton;

The Short Term Camping Pin was awarded to Cathy Pow of Georgetown, Shirley Gambles of Georgetown and Pam Skinner of Milton;

The Long Term Camping Pin went to Diane

Crawford of Georgetown; The Short Term Residential Pin was presented to Pauline Kolbuc of Milton, Pat Mitchell of Acton, Lynn Clark of Georgetown, Marilyn Sharp of Credit Valley, Gail Currie of Milton, Maria Kerslake of Georgetown, Pam Skinner of Milton and Martha Casson of Acton. Mrs. Gambles, Mrs.

Kerslake, Mrs. Skinner and Mrs. Masson were unable to attend the presentation.

Gail Collett of Col Craft showed the women how to make a variety of Christmas decorations which could be easily taught to Brownies, Guides and Pathfinders. The evening, arranged by Mrs. Phipps, was enjoyed by all.
