

'SNOW MUCH FUN!

There was no cause for "alarm" as Limehouse Public School student Leanne Teller swung down the playground's fireman's pole. She was taking part in the school's winter carnival Friday morning and among the activities was a rigorous relay race.

LEGION HISTORY
A fact-finding committee in the community was set up to investigate the possibilities of a swimming pool. There were several members on the committee, which was appointed by town council, and a member headed it. Shortly after this the Lions Club decided to go ahead with a pool, and the Branch were among the first to contribute. Every organization has many who serve it truly and well. But only one can serve a group as its leader when it is formed, and so it was with great regret that Branch 129 lost its charter president, Gordon Cousens, a gallant soldier and good citizen. By tragic coincidence the same weekend saw the death of honorary president "Andy" Dale. To Be Continued

Several new faces will serve on the Georgetown Business Improvement Area (BIA) this year. The new members are: David Page, George Markou, Elsie Barber, Christianne Ollivier, and Gordon Cridland. Two members of council, John McDonald and Phil Carney, have also been appointed as representatives to serve on the BIA Council.

Optimists 'delighted' with new clubhouse

Georgetown Optimists are delighted with their new clubhouse, which officially opened Saturday night. It was a former Jehovah's Witnesses Kingdom Hall and has been renovated for club and community use. Cutting the ribbon are (left to right) Lt.-Gov. (Zone 5) Norm Guthrie, Mayor Pete Pomeroy (an Optimist Club member himself), Georgetown Optimist president John Kesteloot, Esquimes regional Coun. and Optimist Russ Miller, Ontario Governor-elect Gord Hall and past president Bruce Totten. The Georgetown Optimist Club is ten years old and hope was expressed that with the new clubhouse, members might form an "Octagon Club" for young high school students.

"Red Rover" is a game which is as old as school itself, but it took on added fun at Limehouse Public School last week as students held their own winter carnival. Opposing teams send "rovers" out into the field in an attempt to find a breach in the other's defense of outstretched arms. Here Mandy Bonozew makes a mad dash for freedom.

Toboggan races are always a favorite activity for a Winter Carnival. One wonders if we'll ever see the fluffy white stuff again this winter such as seen in this picture.

Approval for Action

The approval of three out of four projects applied for assistance from the Ontario Gov't has been received. "Municipal Action '83 program" was set up during 1982, and designed to help in staff training and the development of management systems. In Aug. of '82 Halton Hills applied for assistance in four areas, and have recently received a formal notice that states assistance will be given in three areas. A by-law must be first passed and the Town will receive the funds. The amount of assistance is $9,850.
