Resort growing

Glen Eden Ski Area was taken over by the Halton Region Conservation Authority in 1966, from a privately owned organization, and since that time has grown from an area with 1 rope tow and 1 T-Bar, to a flourishing area with a Triple Chair Lift and 4 T-Bars, with almost 70,000 skier visits last year and a near record 103 operating days. Even though the Area is owned and operated by the Conservation Authority, Glen Eden is a self-sufficient operation which pays its own way...no funds from provincial or municipal government bodies are used in its operation. In these serious economic times, with runaway inflation and high unemployment, Glen Eden Ski Area is a major winter employer.
