Royals swamp Astros 20-2

Bobby Bouskill, Jamie Tripp and Jason Bonneville all crashed home runs as the Royals swamped the Astros, 20-2, in Georgetown Baseball Association major tyke house league action last week.

Bouskill, who was named the outstanding Royal player, also cracked a three-bagger, as did Bonneville. Robert Ross and Jason Panduro unloaded doubles, to support the pitching of Bouskill, Ross and Shane Oldrieve.

David Gilkes was named the outstanding Astro for his home run.

Randy Barrett, Jason Bastedo and Pat Miodonze shared the Astro pitching duties.

Following is a complete rundown on last week's results.

Rental fees waived

Continued from page 3 argued, was not built for the free use of town groups, with the taxpayers picking up the charges.

The library has booked other facilities in the cultural centre for about 20 occasions to the end of the year, chief librarian Betsy Cornwell said. Programs which generate revenue would not be exempt from the rental waiver, she stressed.

Mayor Pete Pomeroy advised the recreation department and the library board to work out problems in using the cultural centre facilities.

Narcotics charges laid

As a result of a vehicle check, a 22-year old Georgetown female and a 23-year old Georgetown man were charged June 30 with possession of marijuana. The two were charged at 1:10 p.m. at Guelph Street and Mountainview Road.
