

Georgetown's John McPhail, 19, picked up a first-place ribbon in Monday's Junior Holstein calf show at the C.N.E. Mr. McPhail and his calf, Napoleana Ultimate Nelly, were among 20 competitors in the test of exhibiting skill at the Coliseum.

Education costs up

Education budgets are expected to be up in Ontario this year, but per capita expenditures on education should still remain below the national average.

Statistics Canada has forecast an eight per cent increase in Ontario education expenditures in 1983-84 which will push the cost of operating the province's elementary, secondary and postsecondary institutions to $10.2 billion. Those costs could reach $10.8 billion in 1984-85.

Nevertheless, the province still enjoys a below average per capita expenditure on education. In 1982, that figure stood at $1,082, compared to the national average of $1,174.

The federal agency is expecting rolls at the elementary and secondary level to decline after all are registered this month. A total of 1,857,000 are expected to register, one per cent fewer than last year and 11 per cent less than the 1971 enrolment peak.

Enrolment is now at the 1968 level, yet there are 22 per cent more teachers in the elementary-secondary system

Social season

The autumn social season got off to a roaring start Saturday evening with a corn-roast and barbeque at the home of the Kolenda's on Maple Ave.

The get-together marked an opportunity for 60 young people from neighboring churches to have fun and help welcome the Kolendas to their new beautiful home and to Georgetown.
