The Scoons home is in Three Legged Cross in Dorset County in the south of England.

While the Scoons made themselves at home in Mr. Biehn's Queen Street home, Mr. Blehn and a Canadian friend settled into the Scoons residence.

"For some years I've thought of exchanging houses," Mr. Biehn said. "However, not many people want to come to this areathey'd rather go to Vancouver, Florida or Callfornia.'

MATCHED Spreading the word among his English friends in town, he was eventually matched up with the Scoons family. They're a retired couple who lived in Mississauga in the 1950s.

Mr. Scoons had come to Canada to work on the AVRO project and when it collapsed he eventually returned to England, Mr. Blehn explained. The Scoons still have friends in the area and a daughter in London, all of which piqued their interest in an exchange with Mr. Blehn.
