HALTON HILLS ELKS LODGE BINGO EVERY MONDAY

Visit new art exhibit

By PAT HRETCHKA
Herald Columnist

The title of the current art exhibit on display at the Cultural Centre Art Gallery is "Our Good Earth - An Exhibition for Thanksgiving." Autumn is of course the traditional time for giving thanks. It is also a time when color becomes a dominant factor in our lives as Mother Nature gives us one last fling in glorious technicolor before the grey of winter is upon us.

The exhibit, which lasts until November 10, is well worth a visit. The theme is nature and our relationship to it. Some of the best known Canadian artists are represented: Alex Colville, Ken Danby, Jack Reid and Geoffrey Rock to name just a few. Also included are works by several local artists: Frank Black, Gretchen Day, Reginald Finlayson, Vallery Mokrytzki, Jo Walteson and Marjorie Nazer.

Art appreciation is a personal matter and very subjective. I have absolutely no credentials as an art critic and should therefore not express any opinions, but I fell in love with a painting entitled "Wild Flowers" by Geoffrey Rock. I also was very impressed with "Toy Boat" by Reginald Finlayson, "Easter" by Sybil Rampen and "Wind Over Fields" by Jack Reid. Why don't you drop in and pick out your own favorites. Some of the exhibits are also for sale.

Other local galleries are also offering excellent exhibitions. The Gallery House Sol continues its display of works in stained glass by Mimi Gellman and Barbara Latfey and watercolors by Sybil Rampen until October 20.

Forge Studio Gallery until November 6 will be featuring blown glass by Kevin Gray, pottery by Bill Rowland, monoprints by Jo Walteson and Raku by Agnes Olive.

Autumn is the perfect time for appreciating beauty. It is all around us. Take the time to enjoy it.

Consider a home computer as your third most important investment behind a house and car, urged business entrepreneur Anne Wilson.

Speaking to over 50 present at a University Women's Club meeting last Tuesday, Ms. Wilson stressed the opportunity for adults over the age of 35 to learn about micro computers. Anyone who has a specific business or job will be able to adjust and utilize computers more easily, she says.

Around the household a computer can store medical records, and file household inventories for insurance purposes, but she stopped short of recommending that recipes be kept on a computer disc.

"I could just see my $1,000 computer with oil and flour all over it," she laughed.

A home computer for children should have Logo capability so that math oriented problems could be solved by youngsters, she said.

GLT readies play

And, like a certain coffee brand, the play is good to the last drop.

It's a "deceptively difficult play to direct", "The Man Most Likely To..." director Ron Hunt told The Herald.

Because the dialogue is fast-paced and full of comic importance, "one has to achieve a natural flow with fluid stage movement", he said.

Fortunately, he added, "we've landed on a nice amiable, friendly cast".

"Everyone is enjoying the show. It's clicking surprisingly well."

More men needed to meet Globe's New Girl In Town

By MARGARET EGGLETON
Herald Special

Georgetown Globe Productions have just completed three weeks of singing rehearsals with musical director Terry Champ, and now artistic director Sandy Macdonald has begun to block and rehearse the cast for the forthcoming musical "New Girl In Town".

Mr. Macdonald told the cast he is very excited, and "just couldn't wait to get started" since it is a show he has not directed before. Choreographer Phyllis deRosa Koetting has also started putting the dancers through their paces, and Terry Champ is busy rehearsing the orchestra.

The musical, set in New York at the turn of the century, promises to be an evening of lively entertainment.

Following their plea for men, Globe welcomed several new members, but still need more men to augment the present cast of 29. Interested in singing? Then give Gerry Eggleton a call at 877-7309, after 6 p.m. please.

Tickets for "New Girl In Town" are $7 for adults, and $6 for students and seniors for Wednesday and Thursday performances. Group rates are also available for Thursday performances. The two Friday shows are special benefit nights - $12 for the show and wine and cheese reception - with all proceeds donated to two local charitable organizations.

The Globe Box Office will open on Oct. 18. Telephone 877-6441 now to ensure your choice of reserved seats.

Instruments stolen

Neil's Music Centre on 130 Guelph Street was robbed of $2,000 worth of musical equipment overnight Friday. The Georgetown premises had their front door forced, causing $150 damage to the door.

Halton regional police said two guitars, amplifiers, microphones, guitar strings and straps were stolen in the break-in.

Musical variety focus of Norval's new Riviera

By CHRIS AAGAARD
Herald Staff Writer

There's music on the shores of that thar' Credit River in Norval.

Where the Way Jay Club and Norval Junction have had their fling at capturing the entertainment interest of the Golden Horseshoe's discerning consumer, The Riviera has moved into the futuristic dance hall designed by John Ma in 1981.

Last week was the club's first slice at the highly-competitive area entertainment market. It was a deftly-wielded stroke with such opener as The Bobcats, Willie English, The Boys Brigade, and later in the week, country stars Donna Campbell and Seabreeze and The Riveras for Big Band era lovers.

While other clubs in the same location have had flash-in-the-pan success and dimly petered out, The Riviera may have found the key to entertainment longevity in its appeal to a variety of musical tastes.

MUSIC VARIETY After the first two shows, Riviera general manager Bob Donaldson was marvelling about the differences in musical audiences. The one which showed up for the rock-a-billy chords of The Bobcats and Willie English, was different than the one for new music sounds of The Boys Brigade, which in turn would be different than the audience for Donna Campbell, which in turn would be different than the one for The Riveras.

"The entertainment has been pretty good so far," Mr. Donaldson told The Herald, adding that lately he's been going to bed with his ears still ringing from nightly performances.

"We didn't want to direct all the entertainment into one market," he said. "We want to keep a good mix."

Bringing back big band music alongside more mainstream sounds isn't as outlandish it seems, he said. Many young people these days are rediscovering the brassy sounds of the 1930s and forties.

Caledon crafts

Saturday, Oct. 22, over fifty craftspeople will be displaying and selling their handmade crafts in both gymnasiums at Caledon Central School from 9:30 to 4 p.m.

Caledon Central School is located in the Village of Caledon one mile east of Hwy. 10 and Hwy. 24.

"They really like to dance and you can dance to the Big Band sounds."

TALENT PAYS The Riveras aren't a yester-year version of rock's garage band. They're full-accredited musicians, Mr. Donaldson stressed, with plenty of talent.

Bands-rock, country or instrumental-performing at The Riviera enjoy some of the best acoustics in the Golden Horseshoe for night entertainment spots, Mr. Donaldson said.

Under new management, the 22-year old two-level dance hall designed like a futuristic Oriental pagoda, has been refurbished.

It sports a newly-finished floor and two sparkling bars, including a giant one stretching along a portion of the first level.

There's room for 750 people. With the seating arrangement and dance floor which sprawls before the bandstand, Mr. Donaldson estimates that The Riviera is one of the largest licensed establishments of its kind in the province.

And it's backed by a generous supper and finger food menu which features several varieties of hamburger, plus chicken and steak dishes.

There's a $3 cover charge and the doors open at 4 p.m. Among the entertainers who will be performing in the future are David Wilcox, Buddy Rich and The Good Brothers. For more information, call 873-1402.
