Fashion action in Acton

An Acton proprietor proved that not all fashion shows have to be alike.

Mary Ann Austin, owner of The Fabric Shoppe on Mill St., Acton took the plunge by hosting her own fashion show after five years of selling fabrics and patterns.

The Wednesday night show at Acton High School was fun, flashy and upbeat, providing oftentimes the unexpected when shy pre-school models stole the limelight.

Featuring fashions designed by McCalls, Vogue and Butterick, local models, most of whom sewed the fashions they wore, displaying a variety of clothes. There were outfits for fall and winter, daytime "after-five", a category called the co-ordinated look and children's fashions.

A special Hallowe'en display by primary age school children closed the one and a half hour show. Children were included in the fashion show because The Fabric Shoppe sells a lot of material to mothers sewing clothes for their offspring - mostly for the daughters, Mrs. Austin says.

She felt the fashion show would be a good way to promote her fabrics and items. The idea for a show started in the spring, but preparations really couldn't start until September when the fall patterns came in, she said.

Each section of fashions had a different theme music, which was lively, allowing the models to glide down the stage to the beat.

Janice Fread co-ordinated the models for the show while Pat Trotter, who works at The Fabric Shoppe, helped with the 20 local models involved.

better attendance at our General Meeting of Oct. 19, but there are still a lot of our Comrades missing, we need your support so please make the effort to attend. We welcome to our Auxiliary Diane Christie who was initiated on Oct. 19.

We would like to see a good attendance at our Zone Meeting which is being held in Georgetown on Nov. 13 at 1:30 p.m. Please try to attend. Congratulations to Jean Thomas and her committee on a very successful Ladies Night, we had a full house and enjoyed the entertainment provided by Ventriquoist Kerwin Massey, and Comedian Lucky Day. Special thanks to the following people: Rae Clark, Jimmy Hayes, Orval Paul and Art Lawrence who were our lovely serving ladies! To Roma and Edna in the kitchen and Gord Brown who made all that delicious Spaghetti Sauce, plus all the girls who worked at the games and helped at the bar.

The following are the last five winners in our draw: $50 winners - Linda Mills, Lynda Westcott and Linda Paul, $100 winner - Merle Carr, and the big of $300 was Laura Givens.

Remember those of you who are going to the Barcardi Tour on Nov. 1 to be at the Branch at 6 p.m. sharp or you will be left behind. Also Nov. 19 is our bazaar, please contribute in what ever way you can to make this a successful day.

GENERAL MEETING: At 8 p.m. sharp on Thursday, Nov. 27. Let's have a good showing, this is where all the important decisions are made, so if you are interested you should be there.

Georgetown Kinettes raise $200 for C.F. research

Herald Special E.T. may have gone home, but not before he helped the Georgetown Kinettes raise $200 for Cystic Fibrosis at the fall fair in September.

C.F. chairperson Sheryl Savage presented a cheque last Wednesday to Zone D C.F. coordinator Bob Clark of Streetsville during a Kinsmen-Kinette Cystic Fibrosis meeting at the Alcott Arena.

1983-84 marks the 20th anniversary of Kinsmen and Kinette involvement in Cystic Fibrosis, the most common lethal genetic disorder in children.

Thanks to improved care, treatment and intensive research much has been done to extend and improve the quality of life for C.F. children in Canada.

In addition to several other C.F. projects lined up for the year, the Georgetown Kinettes are working on their usual community fund raisers and service projects.

Included are a 50-50 draw and a grocery raffle draw as well as helping the Kinsmen with the Seniors Tour of the Christmas Lights and of course the annual Kinette Toy Drive for the Good Neighbour Service.

Plans for the Spring centre around a dinner and dance for past and present Kin couples in celebration of the 25th anniversary of the Kinette Club of Georgetown.

Recreation Report

WINTER IS COMING

The Halton Hills Recreation Department is looking for ski bus supervisors for the Saturday afternoon junior ski program which starts in January. Applicants must enjoy working with children and skiing.

Job responsibilities include supervising the children on the bus to Glen Eden, assisting the skiers with their equipment and getting the children to their lesson on time. Ski bus supervisors are required from both the Acton and Georgetown Areas.

Application forms can be picked up at either Recreation Office - 40 Mill Street East, Acton or 25 James Street, Georgetown. Call 877-5185, ext. 261 for more information.

THE GREAT OUTDOORS!

A mixed adult recreation Broomball League will get underway in January. Teams will be formed to play each other one evening a week at the 11 outdoor ice rink at the Georgetown Fairgrounds.

Everyone is welcome - whether you've never played before or are an expert! A fun day tournament is planned as a wrap up for the season. Register individually or as a whole team!

There will be a league meeting at Cedarvale Community Centre Thursday, Dec. 8, 1983 - 7:30 p.m. - Plan to attend.

BROOMBALL TOURNEY

The Recreation Department will be hosting an adult co-ed broomball tournament Feb. 11.

The Recreation Department will need community group involvement to ensure success. If your club or organization would like to get involved in this special event by selling refreshments, providing children's games or planning other activities to run in conjunction with the Broomball Tournament, please contact the Recreation Department at 877-5185, ext. 261 to discuss the possibilities.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Stewarttown school readies celebration

By KAY WILSON Herald Correspondent Plans are being finalized for the 25th anniversary party for Stewarttown Senior Public School Nov. 3 from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Organizers are hoping for good attendance by former students, parents and interested area residents.

Congratulations to Mary Lou Laidlaw who won the Peel County Dairy Princess competition Saturday at the Bolton Community Centre.

The competition included a three-minute speech as well as an interview. The daughter of Gord and Rosie Laidlaw of RR2 Norval, Mary Lou spoke on "The Family Farm". Judy Wilkinson of Brampton and Mary Kolb of Bolton also competed.

Norval U.C.W. unit 1 met at the home of Eunice Wilson Thursday for a dessert luncheon. Roll call was answered by a "Thanksgiving thought". Mrs. Mae Shaw, over 90, expressed her thankfulness for living in Brampton and having never been exposed to war or strife as so many countries in the world have. Muriel Wey gave the devotional on "The Samaritan Woman" and Agnes Miller had charge of the study. Mrs. Miller spoke on Nepal; a small mountainous country north of India and south of China, where Mount Everest is located. She spoke of living conditions, agriculture and mission work there.

Norval community euchre had six tables Thursday. Winners were Isabel Landry, Muriel Miller, Garfield McGilvary, Liz McMenemy, Lucky draw - Kay McMillan, Lone hands - Del Wallace.

Visitor from Quebec

By Mrs. JOHN BELLBODDY Herald Correspondent 877-3183

Now with the chill of crisp October days, I hear the sound of wild geese flying low. Their honking voices fill the evening air. As etched across the sky I see them go.

Autumn is the season of the harvest's golden bounty, there is beauty everywhere and our houses overflow with the good things of life. It truly is a time of celebration and challenge.

Mrs. MacGillivray of Quebec spent a weekend recently with Jeff and Kenda Nurse and grandson Lee William.

Congratulations to Mrs. Violet Ainsworth who is a great-grandmother again, her grandson Dale and wife Cindy had a daughter Oct. 12.

Don't forget the big night for the kiddies is coming. It's a scary, spooky night, but fun too. Jack O-lantern trim your light, Fairies come and dance tonight, skipping tripping on the green. Merry be your Hallowe'en. For there's truly an ageold magic, in the night of Hallowe'en.
