

SUPER SUNDAY

Eleven-year old Kathy Johnson was one of the first youngsters to tuck into a specially made cake promoting the Georgetown University Women's Club's Super Sundays Series. The cake was decorated by Gloria Roberts who gave decorating tips to shoppers at the Foodstuffs store on Main Street, while children snacked outside.

Nurse premier breeder

Jeffrey Nurse, Georgetown, was named premier breeder at the west central Holstein show Oct. 18 in Kitchener.

His Monteth Breeders' Herd dominated the entries. The 170-head show was down in numbers of entrants for the 11 counties represented, but judged as high in quality.

The first-place mature dry cow was Elm Crest Senator Schloe exhibited by Cormdale Farms Ltd., also of Georgetown.

Lessia Farms Ltd., Georgetown, headed the four-year old class with Nurel and Pre-Vicky fathered by premier sire A Leadfield Prestar.

Rotary-Anns show

Rotary-Anns of Georgetown present Fashions for 1983-84 at the Cultural Centre, 8:15 p.m. Nov. 9. Price is $8 which includes a wine and cheese reception.

Baha'is sponsoring disarmament speakers

For more than a century members of the Baha'i Faith throughout the world, have been actively pursuing world peace. With this goal in mind, the Baha'is of Halton Hills are sponsoring a public meeting that will feature both Baha'i and non Baha'i speakers.

meeting will be held at the Halton Hills Cultural Centre in Georgetown, November 2 at 8 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend.

St. Johns Thanksoffering

More than 60 of St. John's Women gathered in the Church Hall, Monday, Oct. 17 for a social hour preceding their annual autumn Thank-offering meeting.

President, Ruth Kelly welcomed the ladies and called on the Tri S. group to conduct the worship service. The theme was in keeping with the topic of the evening, "Caring for the Terminally Ill".

Nora Lipp and Eleanor Scarth led in the worship, assisted by soloist Sharon Jacques and pianist Janet Duval.

Jean Getty was surprised to be presented with a corsage and a Life Membership pin in the U.C.W.

Ruth Kelly conducted the presentation on behalf of Jean's mother, who wanted to honor her daughter for her contribution to her church and community and her loving care of her mother.

Ruth Kelly introduced our speaker, Karen Ferguson, who is Volunteer Coordinator for Hospice in North Halton. Originally the word "Hospice" meant a way station for travellers in the Middle Ages - thus often sick or dying travellers were helped.

In 1976 the first Palliative Care Unit was established in the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal. It is funded entirely by public and

Seniors discuss China

The beautiful weather brought many seniors out to the second meeting of the Golden Triangle Club held at the Y.

Meetings first and third Tuesdays at 1:15 p.m. Some discussion took place about future plans. Secretary and Treasurer gave their reports.

Madge Whitfield of Terra Cotta, world traveller, who spent May in China, showed slides she had taken. It opened up new horizons to many seniors.

A social half-hour with tea, coffee and sandwiches brought the meeting to a close.

Volunteers would be appreciated to give some seniors a ride. Phone Shirley Gray, 877-5347. New members are welcome.
