Sure, don't you recognize him? That's Mike, the horrid creature with the horn atop his wrinkled brow. Not your kind of guy? Ahah, caught you turning down your boss for a chocolate. Under the hard-to-love mask is actually Trio hiart owner Floyd Hotton of Burlington, Hallowe'en masks are more popular with the older set, he said, while under cover.

This Hallowe'en the support received by UNICEF from local communities, groups and businesses in Ontario is stronger than ever. In keeping with UNICEF's emphasis on safety this Hallowe'en the organization has issued "The UNICEF Hallowe'en Safety Rules" - many Block Parent committees have agreed to display their window signs on Hallowe'en, and Girl Guides, Pathfinders, Rangers and Cadets will be out in force keeping a watchful eye on UNI-CEF's ghoats and witches.

Through the generous donation of Sears, UNI-CEF will provide to children who Trick-or-Treat with a UNICEF "vest" to be worn over their costumes. The "vest" is made of clear plastic and is trimmed with retro-reflective material "Scotchlite" which reflects light so that children may be easily seen in the dark.

UNICEF Ontario wishes to thank you for helping to make this a safe and successful Hallowe'en.

Support highest in the world

Canadian support of UNICEF is the highest in the world, with millions of Canadians volunteering and contributing annually.

Hallowe'en, in particular, is a time when contributions to UNICEF's children are at their highest, and this fall the UNICEF Hallowe'en campaign will be led by celebrities Andrea Martin, Will Millar and "Winnie-the-Pooh" who are acting as Honorary Chairmen of the worthy Canadian fundraising program for children around the world.

The coins collected in UNICEF Hallowe'en boxes by over one million Canadian children will mean that children in overseas countries who struggle for survival every day will receive clean water, nutritious food, healthcare and education.

1983 is the 29th year that Canadian children will Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF, the fundralsing goal being $2 million. Each dollar collected will be matched by CIDA (Canadian International Development Agency) and that total will be matched again by the country being assisted in goods and services.

Look for children in your neighborhood carrying UNICEF orange boxes, and give generously.
