

UNICEF tips for Hallowe'en

Not too many families can claim five generation reunions, so when Halton Hills resident Hazel Preston visited her daughter in late September, it was marked as a special event. Hazel's daughter, Edna Topp hosted the event in Oak Ridges where her daughter Mary Phipps attended along with Mary's daughter Julie and her daughter Candice.

Hallowe'en, children and UNICEF are three words that are closely linked with the month of October annually.

October is a time for ghosts, witches, costumes and parties, and for thousands of children across Canada, an opportunity to help other children around the world through UNICEF's Hallowe'en fundraising campaign.

Canadian support of UNICEF at Hallowe'en is the highest in the world, and this year thousands of Canadian children will be out once again Trick-or-Treating for UNICEF.

Because UNICEF is concerned with your child's safety, this year you will see Trick-or-Treaters wearing the new UNICEF Hallowe'en "Vest", designed to be worn over a Hallowe'en costume.

Provided by Sears at no cost to UNICEF, the UNICEF Hallowe'en "Vest" is made of clear plastic and is trimmed with the retro-reflective material, Scotchlite, which has been especially designed to reflect light and is considered the best material for visibility after dark.

In order to make this Hallowe'en safe and fun for everyone, UNICEF's Safety Rules are provided as a public service by UNICEF Canada and your provincial UNICEF Committee. The UNICEF Safety Rules are:

1. Never Trick-or-Treat alone. Go with a friend or in a group. Adults should accompany young children.
2. Parents should set a curfew and boundaries within familiar neighborhoods.

3. Youngsters should be advised against entering the house or apartment of a stranger.

4. Children should show parents treats when they arrive home - especially unwrapped candies and fruits.

5. Avoid Trick-or-Treating late at night. Wear light colored, flame-resistant costumes and carry a flashlight.

6. Wear the new UNICEF Hallowe'en "Vest" over your costume so that you can be seen easily.

7. Try on your costume before you leave the house to make sure your costume does not block your view of on-coming vehicles. Tie up any loose or dangling ends that might cause you to trip.

8. Calls should be made along one side of the street and then along the other. Cross streets at intersections or crosswalks.

9. Keep your UNICEF collection box in your hand or hang it around your neck with a piece of string. Keep one hand free to balance yourself.
