Norval

Leslie cattle escaped fire

By KAY WILSON
Herald correspondent

A Hallowe'en theme was the setting for the dessert luncheon and euchre Saturday hosted by the Norval Women's Institute in the Norval Community Centre.

The dessert table was laden with every variety of sweets you'd find in a recipe book. For a centerpiece, tall tapers flanked a curling stone squash, chestnuts, milkweed pods and fall leaves.

The afternoon was arranged by Jean May, Amy Burke and Noreen Van Leeuwen. Marie Murray had charge of the 12 tables of euchre. Winners were: first, Gertrude McGee; second, Gladys Chester; third, Helen Archer; fourth, Ethel Webb; lone hands, Jean Bronder tied with Margaret McClure, Luena Campbell.

Lucky draw winners were: Loretta McCarron, Alice Lester, Muriel Nurse, Shirley Kent, Chris Smith, Isabel McClure, Elizabeth McMenemy, Betty Brownridge, Violet Anisworth, Ida Arnott, Florence Maddison, Lydia Royce, Charlotte McClure and Mae Cleave.

DEVOTIONAL

Ada Duff presided at the Norval Womens Missionary Society Family Night Oct. 25 at Norval Presbyterian Church, and Gertrude McGee gave the devotional on the theme Thanksgiving.

University of Guelph's Dr. Mary Rubio spoke on the international appeal of former Norval resident L.M. Montgomery's books. Her writings have been translated into Japanese and in Poland, a musical, based on "The Blue Castle," is very popular.

Excerpts from Mrs. Montgomery's diaries, revealing her love of poetry and nature, were read by Dr. Rubio. Pictures taken during her time in Norval and her book of recipes were on display, proving of special interest to many Norval residents still living who knew her personally.

The evening also included several musical selections and singing by the Kirk Bell Singers of Guelph.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Carney of Brampton, former Norval residents, on the sudden death of their son-in-law Anthony (Tony) Holland, Oct. 21. Mr. Holland was principal of Sheridan College's Brampton and Credit Valley campuses.

He is survived by his wife Barbara Carney, sons David, Bradley and Glenn, and daughter Amy. Funeral services were held Oct. 25 at the John Bell Chapel, Appleby College, Oakville with interment in Norval's Hillcrest cemetery.

Neighbors and friends of Terry and Laura Leslie were shocked to see and hear of the tragic barn fire. The buzzing of a smoke detector wired from the barn to the house alerted the Leslie's in time to get their dairy cattle out.

The farm is located on Winston Churchill Blvd., and 17 Sideroad. Smoke at times was so dense they lost sight of each other but at the last minute they were able to pick up pedigrees of the cattle when the flames were coming through the ceiling.

The cattle have been taken to the farm of Georgetown's Walt Dixon which enables them to carry on their dairy business.

Homemaker 'Beastly Beauties'

By KAREN O'CONNOR

After 4 meetings the 4H Homemaking club is off to a good start. The club has decided on a name. As special attention is given to hand care and nails in this beauty course it was agreed by all, the name should be "Ballinasfad Beastly Beauties".

The officers elected are president - Lynn Sinclair, vice president - Christine Curry, Sect. Float treasurer - Mary-Jane Guest, press reporter - Karen O'Connor, Mrs. Helgar Schwarz is leader of the club with daughter Helen assisting.

The meetings are held at the home of Mrs. Schwarz on Sat. mornings. Last Sat. it was held in the evening in the form of a Hallowe'en party. Special guest was a representative from Global productions, a theatre group from Georgetown.

They painted faces on two of the girls, one a witch the other a clown. There was lots of fun at the party, including a game of "Trivial Pursuit". Supper of Tacos was enjoyed by all

Bants open with tie

By DEE BUTWELL,
Herald correspondent

After playing a very successful series of pre-season exhibition games the Georgetown A.E. LePage bantam "A" team battled their Burlington counterparts to a 2-2 score, at their opening league game Saturday.

Although Burlington scored the first goal, Georgetown's Mike Chiovitti retaliated after an excellent pass from Mike Flynn.

During the second period, goaltender Chris Pearson held off his attackers, by making many outstanding glove saves.

The scoring action continued in the third period by both teams. Good teamwork put Georgetown ahead 2-1, when Dave Fisher found the mark, assisted by Ray Fisher and Chuck Peebles. Thirteen seconds later, Burlington tied the score 2-2, and from this moment on until the buzzer sounded, nobody knew what the outcome of this exciting game would be.

Loyal True Blues

62nd anniversary

By LAURETTA MILLS
Herald Special

A celebration of the 62nd anniversary of the Loyal True Blue Association No. 393 brought approximately seventy guests from the area lodges of the Districts of York, Simcoe and Unity No. 9.

Following the grace by the Chaplain, Leaman Allen, a cafeteria supper was enjoyed. Seated at the head table were Betty Dixon, Worshipful Mistress, Isabel Nichols, Toronto, Home Board representative, Mary Schamehorn, Huntsville, Past Supreme Grand Mistress, Nancy Hewitt, Listowel, Provincial Grand Mistress and Doll Carter, Georgetown, Charter and Honorary member. Candles on the birthday cake were lit in honour of Past Mistresses.

Mary Schamehorn brought greetings from Supreme Grand Lodge. Nancy Hewitt, Provincial Grand Mistress, congratulated the lodge on their activities and invited all present to attend the Provincial Sessions in Listowel next June.

Isabel Nichols reported that the number of children in the Flexible Daycare had increased at the Richmond Hill Home and how rewarding it was to see children with physical handicaps and learning disabilities being helped in special classes.

Greetings were extended by Frances Rae, Past Provincial Grand Mistress, on behalf of herself and her husband Norman, Provincial Treasurer.

The evening concluded with a draw. A quilt was won by Corinne Rowell, Barrie, a knitted handbag by Vicki Inglis, Georgetown, a cushion by Ida Clark, Limehouse, a tote bag by Dennis Mills, Mississauga and a special prize by Doll Carter, Georgetown.
