

Orval's weather

Pleasant sunny fall weather for the weekend.

Our Town: focusing on grief, pain

Herald Special
Friday, Oct. 20, Maple Avenue Baptist Church hosted the play, "Our Town", presented by the young people of Stanley Avenue Baptist Church in Hamilton.

"Our Town" is a play by Thornton Wilder. It focuses attention upon the mythical community of Grover's Corners, New Hampshire, in the early 1900's.

The story presents the lives of two families: the Gibb's and the Webb's. Their oldest children grow up and eventually marry beginning their own family. Yet tragedy strikes and Emily dies while giving birth to her baby.

The final act shows her looking back at a day in her life, (her twelfth birthday), which she recalls as a happy

Fled scene

A man delivering papers to the Globe and Mail box on Sargent and Mountainview Roads had his vehicle struck by a Toyota which fled the scene. Halton regional police followed the suspect and motioned for him to pull over. The accused was arrested at his Mississauga residence Oct. 25 and charged with criminal negligence, failure to remain, impaired driving, driving with over 80 milligrams of alcohol in his blood.

PREFERENTIAL TEA

Members Beta Sigma Phi held a preferential tea Sunday at the cultural centre gallery to welcome new recruits. An international organization, Beta Sigma Phi is for women interested in expanding their self awareness. Seen here are (left to right) president Peggy Johnson, Linda Casselman, a transfer from Niagara Falls and two Acton ladies Linda Neary and Garlan Sellers. Pouring the tea is Louise Giffen.

Thanks To All...

Marylin Rea had a surprise party. Seems her hubby's retired.

She hosted a gross of people who came to make sure he'd not been fired. The church was well represented and relatives came by the score. The Glen Ball Club donated a present and friends danced and dined till all hours.

My sincere thanks!
