

Continued from Page B2 think we did that," Gem coach Jules Rusnani said moments after the Gems had lost Game Four, 5-3, at Gordon Alcott Arena.

Thanks to their play-off successes, the junior Gems finally made money. The Herald reported March 30. The Gems took in $8,000 in gate receipts in eight home dates, and managed to make $2,000 on the year.

The Raiders made an early exit from the playoffs, by their standards. They easily disposed of Barrie, but were defeated in five games by the Collingwood Shipbuilders for the John Robertson Trophy.

APRIL
Kouvolan-Kiekko, a touring second-division hockey team from Finland, handed the Georgetown Industrial Hockey League All-Stars a 10-6 setback in an exciting international match. Meanwhile, Akers-Clark unsated perennial GHHL champion Hollywood Tavern by winning three of four final-round games.

The GMHA unveiled a new constitution in the first week of April, and vice-president Wayne Pries tells The Herald that the new laws will "eventually merge the ideological gap between supporters of the old rep system and supporters of the old house league."

Meanwhile, the GMHA crowned nine new divisional winners on their 1983 'Day of Champions'.

Mike Doucette and Peter Haller were named co-winners of the most-valuable-player award at the Georgetown Gemini season-ending banquet.

Meanwhile, Raider president Bob Hooper announces that the Red shirts will become a Senior 'A' club for the 1983-84 hockey season.

Cindy Nicholas, the 25-year-old attorney and channel swimmer, presented special awards to swimmers Cheryl Thompson and Eric Elson to highlight the Honor and Recreation Awards evening at the John Elliott Theatre. A total of 144 winners were honored.

Susan Budge of Terra Cotta left for Hungary to begin preparing for the World Orienteering Championships. It would be the 21-year-old university student's fifth appearance at the global finals.

Gail Eastwood won fifth spot overall as an Elite 'A' performer at the OFSAA gymnastics finals in Etobicoke. Rebel teammate Roberta Burke was 10th on the floor for GDHS.

The Glen Williams Merchants were formally renamed the Specters.

MAY
The Raiders made more noise in the off-season than they did against Collingwood in the finals.

Team directors elected Finn Poustrup as the new president, and Dave Kentner rejoined the club as vice-president after a year's absence. Kentner's first coup was to convince coach Gerry Ingls to come out of retirement, and take over the reins of the new Senior 'A' team.

Finally, the Raiders and the Rockton Real McCoy's, defending Ontario Intermediate 'B' champs, join the existing six-team Senior 'A' loop. Later, the Barrie Flyers and the Collingwood Shipbuilders would join, too.

Jules Rusnani agreed to come back as head coach of the junior Gemini, spurring offers from two Major Junior 'A' teams to remain in Halton Hills.

Away from hockey, track and field was in full swing around town. The GDHS Rebels were third overall at the Peel-Halton meet. Midget Sandra Haxton sprinted to a gold medal in the 400 meter competition, while junior Lynn MacPhail was best in the 3000 meter event.

Other Rebel winners included Sue Kristensen and Sandra Marciniuk, who tied for first in the senior 3000. Midget Lou DePaoli blazed to gold in the 100 meter hurdles.

Acton runner Doreen Uranick broke three records at the Father Redmond Track Meet at St. Michael's College in Toronto. Her performances in the 800, 1500 and 3000 meter events earned her recognition as the outstanding junior athlete at the competition.

The Centennial Chargers girls gymnastics team won the North Halton championship, held at Brookville High School.

The Halton Hills Jills hosted a five-club meet, and Gail Cook turned in an outstanding performance for the host team. She won her Junior 'B' competition with firsts on the beam and on the floor, a second on the bars, and another second in vaulting.

In our May 4 edition, Editor Dave Rowney reports that the annual Mayor's Race is just six weeks away, for those who plan to begin training.

Park School won the 11th annual Public School Wrestling Tournament, hosted by GDHS.

Georgetown bantam bowler Janet Hayward won the Central Ontario "Bowler Of The Year" playoffs in Streetsville.

Finally, the Glen Specters remained unbeaten through May, boasting four straight wins to open the Inter County Football League schedule.

JUNE
Georgetown schools dominated the Halton Relays, held the first week of June in Burlington. Centennial runners took two divisional crowns, while Stewarttown claimed a third title, and Joseph Gibbons Public School a fourth.

A week later, the Centennial Chargers compiled 481 points to easily win the North Halton Track Meet at Nelson High School in Burlington.

Still in track, Acton's Doreen Uranick became the fastest high school half-miler in the province, winning at OFSAA in Kitchener with a time of 2:10.00. She was second-best in the 1500 meter race.

On the home front, American track star John Warnock blazed home in front of 259 runners to win the fifth annual Mayor's Race five-kilometer event. Warnock's time of 17 minutes, three seconds was 38 seconds faster than 18-year-old Eric Hopkins, who was second.

Videos win 3-1

Thursday night Georgetown H and H Video minor atoms defeated Chinguacousy 3-1 with a good, solid team effort.

Goals were scored by Jeff Wright, with two, and Steve Wright. Assists went to Jeff Wright, Ryan Schirk, Steve Wright and Steven Smith.

Wednesday night, the families of the boys met at the Optimist Hall for a 'Pot Luck' Christmas Party, which was greatly enjoyed by all. The team thanks H and H Video, the Optimists, and of course, Santa Claus.

Congratulations to the winners of the team's 'Turkey Draw': M. Wilson, M. Nicholson, A. Bergeron, and J. Poustrup of Georgetown; M. St. Pierre of RR1, Georgetown; and C. Boone of Brampton.
