

High school basketball action Midget Rebels win

By GERRY TIMBERS
Herald Sports Editor
The Georgetown District High School midget boys basketball team stretched their season-opening unbeaten string to four games, edging Oakville Trafalgar High School, 30-28, Friday night at GDHS.

OTHS 52-36. The Rebel juniors went down to their first defeat of the schedule, losing 46-41. The Georgetown midgets were paced by an outstanding performance from reserve guard Mike Hurley, who came off the bench with a top-notch performance. He contributed a team-high eight points to the win, but also made the key play of the game when he turned a steal into the tying basket in the final minute of play. Hurley then made good on a pair of foul shots for the winning margin.

Guard Jim Manning and forward John Watts both hit for six points to pace the Georgetown attack.
The Rebel juniors fell victim to the injury plague in their first loss of the season.
"You can't afford to lose key players in this type of competition," coach Moe Leeking said. "We just can't seem to shake the injury jinx."

Georgetown junior Rebel guard Pat Braund (12) scored 11 points, but the locals still fell to defeat at the hands of OTHS, 46-41. The midget and senior Rebels won their matches, however, as GDHS hosted the Oakville teams in a triple-header Friday night.

Novices lose close one

After playing Dundas to a scoreless tie Saturday in Dundas, the Georgetown Chrysler novice "AA" squad came home and lost a close 3-2 decision to Orangeville on Sunday in Tri-County hockey action.
Goalie Michael Wilkinson was the hero of Saturday's game as he recorded his first shut-out of the season, coming up with many crucial saves.
Doug Sheppard and Steve Boyle had the best scoring chances for Georgetown. Sheppard's deflected shot beat the Dundas goaltender, but the puck landed on top of the net, instead of in it. Boyle was fouled on a breakaway.

Sunday at Memorial Arena, Greg MacLeish put the Chryslers ahead five minutes into the first period as he slid the puck under the Orangeville goalie from close in. Steve Melykuty and Ryan Pirie drew assists on the power play goal.
The lead was short lived as 19 seconds later Orangeville evened the score at 1-1.

Doug Sheppard put the locals ahead 13 seconds later as he took a centering pass from Steve Boyle and beat the goalie high to the glove side. Steve Bewley also drew an assist on the play.
Orangeville tied the game late in the second period and then scored the winning goal early in the third period with Georgetown a man short.

Candy peewees top Brampton

Greg Onoprijenko scored a pair of goals to lead the Georgetown Candy Productions peewees to a 3-2 exhibition game win over a Brampton Inher-City Hockey League team.

Stu Vogt and Jason Knight set up Onoprijenko for his first goal to give Georgetown a 1-0 first-period lead. Marc Murnaghan connected for Georgetown's second goal, from John Wilson, after Brampton had tied the score at 1-1.

Onoprijenko registered his second of the night, again from Vogt, for the third-period winner. Georgetown goalies Scott Compton and Chris Smith preserved the victory with a variety of fine saves.

Pipe novices win

In spite of a four-week lay-off, Georgetown's Concrete Pipe novices continued their winning ways by downing Orangeville 1-0 in Tri-County hockey action Sunday.

The team's relentless forechecking kept the opposition at bay throughout the game. Finally with 1:37 left on the clock Orangeville succumbed to the Georgetown pressure when Troy Schirk scored on a screen shot from the slot, assisted by Glen Henderson and Jeremy Hamp.

Keith Montgomery was the game's outstanding defensive star.

minute of play.

The juniors did manage to close the gap to a single point at one stage of the final quarter, trailing 39-38.
"They made some clutch shots after that, and we didn't," Leeking said.
The senior Rebels turned 13 points from Paul Watts and a strong team defensive performance into an easy win.
