BOB BARBER

Growing lilies is one of Bob Barber's favorite pastimes.

The 72-year old Georgetown man specializes in growing the pretty flower for competitions and his personal pleasure.

Last year, he and Georgetown resident Norm Elson organized a lily show in the Halton Hills Cultural Centre gallery. The two anticipate holding a second lily show this summer.

Born in Cornwall, Ontario, Mr. Barber's father and family came from Georgetown. Mr. Barber's grandfather operated a paper mill here and another in Cornwall.

"My dad was sent down to supervise the plant in Cornwall," Mr. Barber said. "They sold it just after I was born."

In 1917, Mr. Barber's family moved to Toronto; in 1934, the family moved to Georgetown. However, Mr. Barber didn't stay here.

After he married, he moved back to Georgetown in 1947, and started up a business with his brother.

The two did silk screen process printing until their partnership broke up after two years. Mr. Barber carried on, producing real estate signs for customers all over Ontario.
