Norval church honors Mrs. Laidlaw's service

By KAY WILSON
Herald Correspondent
NORVAL - A beautiful Easter service was conducted by Rev. Walter Ridley in Norval United Church.

when Mrs. Kay Wilson expressed the appreciation of the church members to Mrs. Kate Laidlaw for the 35 years she has been responsible for the bread and wine for communion.

Her daughter Mrs. Jean Dunlop was presented with a life-membership pin which was pinned on her mother. Mrs. Laidlaw expressed her thanks to everyone. A social followed with a cake cut by Mrs. Laidlaw.

Following the Easter story by the minister the children adjourned to their classes. Rev. Ridley took as his sermon "From Darkness to Light". Familiar Easter Hymns added to the service, and Easter lilies in the church were in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lyons.

Frank Mullin

Former Herald ad manager Frank Mullin was found dead in his Georgetown apartment Sunday night.

Notices aren't being published in local newspapers by J.S. Jones and Son Funeral Home Ltd. in respect of his request.

A quiet ceremony is being held for Mr. Mullin this morning at 11:30 at the Meadowvale Crematorium, with committal prayers by St. George's Anglican Church minister Rev. Jim Boyles.

Mr. Mullin was in his early seventies and lived alone in his Main Street South apartment in Berwick Hall. He is survived by his brother Joseph in St. John, New Brunswick, and a niece.

Mr. Mullin worked for The Herald approximately 15 years, coming from the Brampton Daily Times. Singlehandedly, he ran the Herald ad department, retiring eight years ago. After retirement he worked part-time for the Erin Advocate.

Former employer Walter Blehn called Mr. Mullin "a very good employee". He said Mr. Mullin had a good sense of humor and lived a quiet life.
